Senick Quaker Threat

May Give Evans Job as 'Shadow'

By BILL WALKER
Times Sport Editor

SASKATOON, April 21—Walt Atanas and Joe Evans were the center of a controversy today as Victoria Cougars awaited tonight's fifth game of their Pacific Coast Hockey League President's Cup series with Saskatoon Quakers. Responsible for the difference of opinion between owner Lester Patrick and coach Roger Leger is Quaker George Senick.

Senick is regarded by both Patrick and Leger as the key man in the Quaker attack. He has been the spark, the driving force and the most dangerous forward on the ice in the four games that have gone into the record.

He leads all scorers in the playoffs with eight goals and nine assists, breaking loose for three goals and two assists Saturday night.

Patrick, who has yet to see the Cougars win a playoff game, recommended to Leger today that Joe Evans, normally a left-winger, be switched over to right-wing with his sole job being to shadow Senick. "Given a job to do, Joe will do it," said Patrick.

Leger, on the other hand, does not want to switch his forward units and feels that Atanas, who did such a wonderful job in checking Gordon Fashaway in the New Westminster series, can handle the Quaker forward.

Cougars had a light skating drill planned for lunch time today following which Leger was to name his starting team. Leon Bouchard is expected to replace Joe Medynski with Bob Ballance replacing Jack McIntyre for the second straight game.

Latest available information on Tom Fowler, Quaker forward who collapsed following Saturday's game, is that he will be in uniform. However, it is not known if he will see full time duty as he was to be examined by the Quakers' club physician later in the day.

Loss of Fowler would leave the Quakers with only 12 men. As it is they will rely on only three defencemen. Bill Heindel, Murray Parker and Carl Kaiser to carry the blue-line load.

Odds favor the Quakers but there's a strong feeling that the Cougars, with their backs to the wall, a familiar setting, will be tougher than ever.

At any rate, they plan to "shoot the works," says Leger.

Restoration of World Trade Surest Way to Consolidate Peace—Mayhew

Consolidation of world peace depends on restoration of world trade, Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries, told a joint luncheon of the Goro Club and the Pacific Northwest Trade Association in Empress Hotel today.

"I am confident that world trade will be restored, and when that day comes, the Pacific Northwest must be ready," he said.

"In this area are many of the new economic, social and political opportunities of the continent. Vast new areas are opening up, and the pioneering challenge is as strong as it was in the early days along the Atlantic seaboard."

Mr. Mayhew suggested that a study of a world map shows the magnitude of the combined territories of Washington, Oregon, British Columbia and Alaska. "From tip to tip, following a smooth line along the coast, they extend more than the breadth of this continent at its widest point," he said.

"Their land area is more than a million square miles, nearly eight times the size of Japan, five times the size of France. The potentialities of the Pacific Northwest have hardly been touched."

Mr. Mayhew felt that the fisheries treaty with Japan will receive full support when its terms are completely understood. "Our main objective was to protect the fisheries resources for our own people, and to safeguard our rights over the salmon, herring and halibut," (See Page 13).

ST. LAURENT WIRES QUEEN ON HER 26TH BIRTHDAY

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today sent greetings to Queen Elizabeth on the first birthday of her reign.

In a message addressed to Rt. Hon. Sir Alan Lascelles, the Queen's private secretary, Mr. St. Laurent said: "My colleagues and I should appreciate it if you would convey to Her Majesty our congratulations and good wishes on the occasion of her birthday."

While the Canadian Army gun salutes will not sound until the Queen's official birthday, June 9, the Royal Canadian Navy fired salutes today at noon.

H.M.C.S. Ontario, in San Francisco Harbor, crashed out a salute.

All ships were "dressed" over-all. (See Story Page 9).

Adenauer Meets Western Heads on German Pact

Conferences May End Seven-Year-Old Allied Occupation; Will Replace Present Statute

BONN, Germany, April 21 (Reuters)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the three western high commissioners today opened a round of conferences expected to end the seven-year-old Allied occupation by May 17.

Negotiations will cover the outstanding points in the contractual agreements which are to replace the present occupation statute.

The new treaty will be signed here by the British, United States and French foreign ministers and Adenauer if the present talks run according to schedule, Allied sources said.

They will then leave for The Hague, The Netherlands, to sign the six-country European army treaty, now being negotiated in Paris.

West German Communist newspapers today stepped up their campaign against the "general war treaty," appealing for strikes and mass demonstrations in support of German reunification and a peace treaty.

Both treaties are in the final stages of development and will be implemented simultaneously when they are ratified by all parliaments concerned. This process is expected to last several months.

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States is scheduled to arrive in Europe May 9.

Usually well-informed sources consider the only point which risks upsetting the time table is the division of West Germany's cash contribution to Western defense between her own troops and support of Allied troops stationed in Germany.

In the case of the contractual agreements, outstanding points include the future of German property abroad, reparations, the legal status of the wives of Allied troops in Germany, settlement of the Saar problem and war criminals.

1,600 Convicts Hold Guards in Wild Riot

B.C. MAY GET $25,000,000 PULP PROJECT

Prince George Site Of Huge Industry

Plans for a $25,000,000 sulphate pulp mill in the Prince George area of B.C. were announced today by a group of investors headed by Westminster Paper Company.

A start on the project—designed to employ 300 men—will depend on the government granting a forest management license for which the company has applied.

It is the sixth huge pulp project in the last five years for the province's steadily snowballing boom.

Sponsors of the venture include representation from the Prince George area. It is planned to expand representation if interest is shown by other investors, the announcement said.

The produce of the plant, bleached sulphate pulp, will be sent to New Westminster for manufacture into sanitary tissues and other products of Westminster paper. The company proposes to work in close conjunction with other forest industries for complete utilization of waste materials from the mills.

Westminster Paper was founded in 1922 and has expanded to become one of the country's leading producers of specialty papers.

It has a large export trade. The New Westminster plant now is being expanded and 500 persons are expected to be employed there by the end of the year.

According to officials of the department of lands and forests the forest management license application is for rights in 600 acres of forest land in the Willow River area. Several conflicting applications have been filed.

WISMER WON'T OPPOSE 'BOSS'

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said today in Vancouver it is his "firm and final decision" never to let his name go forward as a successor to Premier Byron Johnson.

It was reported Saturday that a faction within the Liberal party intends to back Mr. Wismer for leadership at this week's convention.

Mr. Wismer pledged his solid support to Premier Johnson.

A drop of three or four cents on a pound of beef retail within a week is expected by some Victoria meat dealers following a three-cent cut today in wholesale prices in Vancouver.

Dealers said the price drop will follow a similar decrease in Vancouver. The drop in wholesale prices resulted from reopening of southern Alberta supply sources by complete removal of B.C. embargo imposed after outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan in February.

Dealers said the lifting of the embargo would certainly result in meat prices decreasing a few cents.

New Suspected Foot, Mouth Case Checked

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner disclosed today that a new case of an animal showing some of the symptoms of foot-and-mouth disease is under investigation.

He did not say where the sick animal is located. He told the Ottawa Rotary Club that the case was reported last Saturday, and he hoped to be able to say either tonight or Tuesday that the animal is not suffering from the infection.

Gunfire Marks Michigan Mutiny; Building Afire

JACKSON, Mich., April 21 (AP)—Six more guards were seized as hostages by mutineers at the state prison of southern Michigan today.

This brought to 10 the number of hostages held by the prisoners.

Four other guards had been in the prisoners' custody since Sunday night. It was the third prison outbreak in the United States within the past 10 days.

The first gunfire of the prison riot meanwhile took place. State police fired four shots when rioters were said to have threatened guards of a work party inside the grounds. The police said the shots were "warning shots" and were fired over the heads of the convicts.

The gunshots came as rioting prisoners still held control of a large portion of the mammoth prison in a continuation of an outbreak that began Sunday night. A half-dozen prison guards had been injured as the rioting spread into mid-morning. The quartermaster building, containing clothing, was set ablaze.

One group broke into the prison theater, seized musical instruments and paraded in the yard. A night-long mutiny of some of the prison's toughest criminals touched off a series of new disturbances after daybreak.

Four prison guards were held as hostages by the mutineers, led by the notorious "Crazy Jack" Hyatt, who, if ever released, is to be deported to Canada as an undesirable alien.

At least two prison blocks, including a mental ward, and the mess hall were in control of the rioters.

Threaten to 'Work Over' Hostages Hyatt, whose real name is Jack, pulled a knife and attempted to use Governor G. Mennen Williams as a shield in an escape attempt at Michigan's Marquette State prison on July 8, 1950. A guard overpowered him.

There are 179 convicts in the five-tier cell block, all but 29 of them are there for violating prison rules of discipline. Guards reported, however, that a group of 15 or so seemed to be fomenters of the uprising.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie reported nine hours after the guards were seized: "Everything is under control. It's a matter of sweating them out now. The building is surrounded and there is plenty of artillery trained on it."

He denied any brutality. The convicts denied there was any connection between their mutiny and riots in New Jersey prisons, where barricaded convicts have been demanding an end of alleged beatings, an outside investigation and better food. Currently 231 are in the third day of a mutiny at Rahway. Another such mutiny ended Friday at Trenton.

LONG CRIMINAL RECORD OTTAWA, April 21 (CP)—"Crazy Jack" Hyatt, involved in a prison mutiny in Michigan, has a long criminal record in Canada considering his age. R.C.M.P. officials said today.

A native of Leamington, Ont., the 29-year-old Hyatt was first sentenced to six months in reformatory for theft and shopbreaking in Leamington in 1938 at the age of 16. He was convicted of theft in Windsor, Ont., in 1940, and in Woodstock, Ont., in 1941, receiving suspended sentence in both cases. In 1942 he was convicted for automobile theft and carrying a gun in Windsor, and was sentenced to two years in penitentiary on the first charge, with an additional year, running concurrently, on the second.

He was released in 1943. R.C.M.P. had no further record on Hyatt until the armed robbery in Detroit in 1945 for which he was sentenced to 25 to 30 years.

RAHWAY, N.J., April 21 (AP)—With hunger and thirst as their allies, Rahway prison officials waited patiently today for a break in a four-day rebellion of 231 convicts.

The revolt is the longest in a series of five prison outbreaks in the state. A similar mutiny by 69 convicts at Trenton State prison, 40 miles to the south, ended Friday after 77 hours. Barricaded in a dormitory wing, the prisoners were promised they would receive no corporal punishment if they surrendered without harming their eight guard hostages.

The desperate convicts, vowing "victory or death" in their mutiny, were reported bickering as food supplies dwindled. Water has been shut off to the wing since the riot flared up Thursday night.

BACK TO WORK LONDON, April 12 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill, recovering from a heavy chest cold, returned to his desk at 10 Downing Street today.

The premier drove to London from his country home in Kent, where he has been recuperating.

They are Mrs. Frank Skillings, Mrs. F. Anson Firth and Jim Genge, all of Victoria. There are seven great-grandchildren.

While he lived mostly in Victoria, Mr. Rithet had business interests in San Francisco. He was also for a time governor of the Sandwich Islands, when they were still a British possession.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean will conduct funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 3 from Hayward's Ltd. Burial will be in the family vault at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mrs. Rithet leaves one sister, Mrs. (Capt.) John Irving, in England, and one brother, Kenneth V. Munro in Victoria. (See P. 13).

Her Life Paralleled Victoria's First 100 Years.

The family album portrait of Mrs. Rithet, left, was taken when she was about 18 by the Portland, Ore., firm of Buchtel and Stole. Hollybank, at Humbolt and Vancouver, the family home where Mrs. Rithet died Sunday, is shown as it appeared in earlier days.

Early Victorian, Mrs. Robert Paterson Rithet, 99, Dies Sunday in Home She Occupied Since 1875

Mrs. Robert Paterson Rithet, who bore a name synonymous with early Victoria, died Sunday morning in her 100th year.

She died, less than a week after her 99th birthday at "Hollybank," the 952 Humboldt Street home, she went to as a bride in 1875.

Her husband, who died at "Hollybank" in 1919, left his name to the wharves he built near Ogden Point Dock, the 900-acre Rithet Farm at Royal Oak and a street in James Bay.

He left it also on the rolls of the city's early mayors and on the membership list of the B.C. legislature.

Mrs. Rithet was born Elizabeth Munro, in London, England, daughter of Alexander Munro, one of the pioneer chief factors of the Hudson's Bay Company.

She was brought by her parents around the Horn to Victoria in 1857.

When she married Mr. Rithet in 1875 she won to "Hollybank," a wedding gift from her father. The big house with its holly trees, from which it took its name, and wrought iron gates, overlooked Beacon Hill Park in those early days.

The young couple were well known in the city's social and business life and government circles.

Mr. Rithet built the wharves which during the last war were taken over by V.M.D. He served Victoria as mayor in 1885 and from 1894 to 1898 was senior member of the B.C. Legislature for Victoria.

Even in her later years Mrs. Rithet was active and upright. For years she drove a quaint electric car. In the past 10 years she had not left "Hollybank," but was quite alert until two or three days before her death. She had a conference with her lawyer on her birthday.

All three of her children predeceased her.

Edward died many years ago. John Rithet died in 1942 and Mrs. L. A. Genge, who lived for many years next door to her mother, in 1945.

Three grandchildren survive.

Missouri Area Weather Troubles Flood Experts

KANSAS CITY, April 21 (AP)—Tricky Missouri Valley weather today posed new problems on 700 miles of the flooded Missouri River.

What worried flood-fighters was: How much will it rain and where?

All the experts would say was that a chance of heavy rain exists. But they couldn't tell yet whether it will hit the Missouri basin, especially the overloaded area from St. Joseph, Mo., to Kansas City.

Even if it rained a full inch in the Kaw (Kansas) basin, they said, it will raise the Missouri at Kansas City only about a foot. That would still be well below dike level.

The Kaw was what gave Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., their worst flood when it poured into the Missouri here last July. It is at a low level now.

Brig.-Gen. D. G. Shingler, division engineer at Omaha, stuck to his prediction that the Kansas City would be safe this time. But while the downstream battle was not as spectacular as the fight to save Omaha and Council Bluffs last week, it was still a hard one. Men still fought to confine the river which has driven thousands from their homes and caused millions of dollars worth of damage.

"Today we're in flood stage from Blair, Neb., above Omaha almost to the mouth near St. Charles—a distance of about 700 miles," Shingler said.

Weather threat developed on the northern Mississippi River. A flood crest of 15.3 feet—lower than originally predicted—reached La Crosse, Wis., Sunday. Soggy dikes held but repair work went on. Weatherman A. D. Sanial said today and Tuesday will be critical times there because the river won't start dropping much until Tuesday night.

A wind which might climb to a stiff 25 miles an hour was forecast for today in that area. That would pile up the waves against the dikes.

Downstream at Prairie Du Chien, Wis., where there was no dike protection, a revised crest of 19.7 feet was predicted for Wednesday, down 3 feet from the earlier forecast.

Cougars musta thought they'd run into one of them Missouri floods.

Lots o' talkabout tet nine million dollar dream, but folks around Portage Inlet are takin' a dim view Royal.

See they're still promisin' th' West Coast road. They'll be th' first drive I take—if I buy a car, if I win th' sweepstake, if they build it.

See they're still promisin' th' West Coast road. They'll be th' first drive I take—if I buy a car, if I win th' sweepstake, if they build it.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

I'm told—and I have to be, not having any understanding on the subject—that Jock Dunbar has a mighty fine voice. Me, I just like listening to him. But I wouldn't know how good he is technically.

One of the minor tragedies in hereditarily in our household is the way the gift of song ran out before it reached me. The older folk can lean back in their chairs, let the film of retrospection slide over their eyes, and talk about music in the home in their day, in their parents' day, and back into the fourth and fifth generation before them.

It's just a little crushing to have that tradition climb up the family tree, making it a home of singing birds, and then reach the branch where I sit and caw like a crow.

It isn't that I haven't tried to sing, or that I haven't been exposed to singing. Exposure was an early and unpleasant experience. It started when the family paid good money so my sister and I could rise early in the morning, strike a note on the piano and ride up and down the scale with a series of "mee-mee-mee-mees" and "ah-ah-ahs."

Lying in bed, and unable to sleep through her practice, I used to follow, like an echo, Panthea's persuasion discouraged me. That's probably why I've never scaled the musical heights.

Still, I do sing, as I call it, on occasion—around Christmas and New Year's. But there's a very poor market at present for my "Wiffenpoof Song." No appreciation. After our last office concert, one of the boys who knows singing, took me aside and said I had a very good voice, but I wasn't using it properly.

Just a Little Softer

"Sing a little softer," he said. And I sang a little softer. "Just a little softer still," he urged. And I kept cutting down on my power. When he got me to a point five degrees softer than Jack Smith, the old whispering baritone, he was satisfied and let me back into the chorus. In that crowd I couldn't even hear myself—which seemed to be my coach's idea.

"There's this about the way you were singing before," he said when the party broke up, "it made Durante sound swell on Inka-Dinka-Do."

Mind you, I'm beginning to appreciate my limitations. But I'm not without hope. It looks as if I'll be able to find my vocal meter if I just follow the technique of Johnny Ray.

Another of the boys in the office who sings—you'll hear him in "The Red Mill"—says Johnny cries through his numbers. The tears just flow out of his voice and stop crowds in the big-time night clubs. Johnny, says the guy in our office, turns out pure corn. It's awful, and the public flocks to the clubs to hear him. They love it.

With a Sob in My Heart

Now I'm practicing putting a sob into my voice. And I'm following the Ray technique by turning to the old sentimental ditties. I weep my way through "My Darling Nellie Grey," and when I sing "Moonlight on the Wabash," everybody within hearing cries with me.

I'm used to that. When the kids were babies and had fretful nights, I used to sing lullabies to them. They cried and cried, louder even than Johnny Ray when he's singing. For a while I thought that proved my abilities to stir emotions. A sentimental song that would bring tears to the eyes of infants—or keep them flowing if they had started before the song—ought to be a pretty fair criterion. Babies aren't given to deceit, that way. Of course, I could have been wrong. Some infants are just cry-babies by instinct.

Anyhow, there may be a career opening before me, now Johnny Ray's bringing back the old sentimental numbers, replacing bebop, the skat singers and even the boo-boop-de-doo boys.

Naturally, I'm going to be exposed to some discouragements and some discourtesies in my climb to fame. We potential artists expect that. When the family suggested I wasn't Gene Kelly and that I should quit singing in the Rain, because it sounded as if I'd been out in it too long, I just snapped my fingers.

I tell the family there's a place in this world for my singing. They agree. But I can't help feeling a little hurt when they ask if I've applied for a job as Cape St. James lightkeeper.

$100,000 Drive Started By St. John Ambulance

St. John Ambulance Association is conducting its first campaign in three years to raise $100,000 to carry on its work in aiding the sick and injured.

The order, with its Ambulance Brigade, cadets and nursing division, is a volunteer organization dating back to the Crusades. It has been established in this province since 1908 and now operates 55 centers in B.C., maintains 14 highway patrols to aid persons injured in accidents and has 28 active ambulance, nursing and cadet divisions with a membership of 500.

The order has trained 128,000 men, women and youths in first aid and home nursing since 1939 and will train 18,000 civil defense workers, as well as hundreds for industrial first aid posts this year. Its course is a must for those wishing to pass Workmen's Compensation Board industrial first aid tests.

St. John trainees in B.C. forest industries saved 14 lives last year. The order hopes to establish 12 more highway first aid posts in the province this year if the present campaign is successful.

Campaign chairman M. J. Foley said 208 lives were lost in traffic accidents on provincial highways last year and more than 6,600 persons were injured. Mr. Foley said "in many cases of serious injury, it is prompt attention in the first few minutes that can mean the difference between life and death."

Contributions should be sent to campaign headquarters at 518 West Hastings Street, Vancouver. Receipts will be issued.

400 FIREMEN BATTLE BLAZE AT VANCOUVER

$500,000 Loss as Warehouse Razed

VANCOUVER, April 21 (CP)—Four hundred firemen—just about every firefighter in the city—grappled for 13 hours Sunday with a warehouse fire which left the four-story building a black shell.

Ten of them were overcome by smoke while trying to subdue the flames, which chewed through pianos, refrigerators, mattresses, bedroom suites and a variety of other stored household articles.

Insurance adjusters estimated damage in excess of $500,000. In addition, smoke and water damage was inflicted on four industrial firms near the warehouse, owned by Bowman Storge & Cartage Ltd.

Cause of the three-alarm fire—first sighted about 3 a.m.—has not been determined. Sunday afternoon even firemen were forbidden to enter certain sections of the building because of falling debris.

Altogether 11 trucks answered the three alarms to what was Vancouver's biggest industrial fire in two years. An estimated 14,000 feet of hose were used and the city fireboat pumped water through hose strung several hundred feet from the waterfront.

Firemen chopped holes through walls to free water which became dammed in the building and threatened to collapse the walls.

Of the 10 firemen overcome, two needed hospital care. However, they were allowed to go home following treatment.

A taxi driver turned in the first alarm. A police constable who reached the scene minutes after the alarm said the building's interior was "ablaze from end to end."

HARBOR TO BE LOWERED

DUISBURG, GERMANY, April 21 (Reuters)—The Duisburg-Ruhrort harbor, biggest inland harbor in continental Europe, is to be lowered nearly six feet by exploiting coal deposits beneath it. The harbor has to be lowered to accommodate changes in the depth of the Rhine river bed through erosion. By mining the coal and letting the harbor sink expensive dredging will be avoided.

Truman Hits Back at G.O.P. Efforts To Deny Funds for Steel Operations

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Truman told the Senate today that if it restricts use of government funds for operation of the seized steel mills it may result in "paralyzing the operations of the government in an emergency."

In a letter to Vice-President Alben Barkley, Truman hit out at Republican-sponsored moves to deny any funds for government operation of the mills.

He warned: "If the Communists stage another offensive in Korea this spring, the success or failure of that offensive may well depend on whether or not we have kept our steel mills in operation. This is a consideration over and above the drastic effect a steel shutdown would have on our total defense effort."

Truman repeated what he had said in a message April 9—that he ordered "temporary operation" of the steel mills by the government "with the utmost reluctance."

The message was sent to Barkley while Truman continued his cruise aboard the yacht Williamsburg.

Meanwhile, Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, and Ellis Arnall, Price Stabilizer, met at the White House with the National Advisory Board on Mobilization policy for a discussion of the steel situation.

Republicans sponsoring the move to cut off funds for government operation of the steel industry claimed growing Democratic support.

Today's more powerful engines require a highly complex gasoline to deliver their full power. There can be as many as 1500 different chemical compounds in a gallon of gasoline.

To select the best of these chemicals, and to arrange them properly to fulfill the needs of your car calls for the last word in refinery equipment and scientific skill.

It is Shell's manufacturing policy to make "The most powerful gasoline your car can use." Shell activates gasoline by splitting and rearranging petroleum molecules.

The result—Shell Premium—the most powerful gasoline your car can use. See the Shell Dealer in your neighborhood.

SPYING—In Belgrade a Yugoslav court sentenced Nikita Bakov, former high foreign ministry official, to life imprisonment at hard labor on charges of spying and selling state secrets to Russia.

Three other dependants, including Bakov's wife, were given prison sentences ranging from eight to 14 years. All pleaded guilty.

Bakov, 35, a native of Russia, confessed betraying "the country which I helped to build." Four times, decorated during the Second World War while fighting for Marshal Tito's Partisans, he attempted to kill himself during the trial by banging his head against a radiator.

WAR—In Korea, United States Sabre jet pilots today shot down seven and damaged six Communist MiG jets, the Fifth Air Force announced.

The Air Force said the Russian-made jets were bagged in three separate duels involving 100 Red planes.

Capt. Robert J. Love of San Bernardino, Calif., shot down two MiGs in a battle involving 28 Sabres and 50 MiGs, the air force said. Three other MiGs were shot down—three were damaged and one of the Red's new fast type-15 jets was hit in this scrap. Allied losses, if any, are announced weekly.

IKK—A heavy head and throat cold will keep Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in bed for another day.

Informants said his temperature has dropped to normal but another day of rest is needed to lick an "upper respiratory infection."

The general was ordered to bed by his doctor last Saturday.

DISASTER—In Berlin at least 13 miners were killed and 27 hurt in a coal-mine explosion Saturday at Zwickau, the East German government announced Sunday night. "Some of the miners are missing," the government announcement said, without giving a number. Some east-zone pits have as many as 500 workmen in them.

It was the first time the Communist east-zone government ever had made such an announcement and it led to immediate speculation in the west that a major disaster was involved, one of such proportions that it would not be kept secret.

The statement, distributed by Propaganda Chief Gerhart Eisler, said most of the injured men were hurt so badly they may die.

DEADLOCK—In Munsan each side today refused to recognize that problems exist on the two deadlocked issues in Korean truce talks. There was no hint of compromise.

Col. Don O. Darrow, a United Nations' command staff officer, said the Communists refused to "discuss or even acknowledge" the issue of military airfield construction in Korea in the event of an armistice.

The U.N.C. wants to ban the building of military airfields during a truce. The Reds have termed this interference in the internal affairs of North Korea.

A U.N.C. communique said the matter of which countries should supervise a truce "has been solved" by the U.N.C. suggestion that on four countries—Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia—form the supervisory commission.

The Reds want Russia on the list. The Allies do not.

CONVICTED—Armand Rochette, Montreal business man, was convicted today of theft of $291,000 from La Traversée De Lévis. He was sentenced to four years in penitentiary and fined $10,000.

Judge Eugene Lafontaine ordered the 45-year-old accused to serve an additional two years if he fails to pay the fine.

Hearing of a second charge of defrauding the Ferry Company and shareholders of $375,000 was postponed.

U.S. RAILWAYS MAY FIGHT SEAWAY PLAN

All-Canadian Scheme Could Face Court Action American Proponent Tells Toronto Audience

TORONTO, April 21 (CP)—A leading United States proponent of the St. Lawrence Seaway project said today that American railroads will likely take legal action to delay all-Canadian construction of the seaway.

The legal action, if taken, would be against participation of any American agency in the joint hydro development to be built with the seaway, Dr. N. R. Danielian, executive vice-president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association, said in a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the Toronto Board of Trade and the Canadian Club.

He said legal experts believe court action will fail, "although we may lose some time in litigation. Do not be surprised, therefore, if there is some more delay, even under the Canadian proposal."

The railroads may question the right of the U.S. Federal Power Commission to issue a license for the hydro-project participation, Dr. Danielian said. They may question the jurisdiction of the International Joint Commission which must approve the project or they may question the right of New York State to build the project jointly with Ontario.

Dr. Danielian said if court action fails, opponents of the seaway "hope, perhaps through change of administration and new faces in the government, to gain more time for the conspiracy of confusion that has been their stock in trade."

A final attempt for American participation in the seaway itself will be made Tuesday, he said, when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee studies the question in Washington.

"I should not be surprised if a majority shows statesmanship enough to report the measure to the full Senate," he said. "We have at least a 50 per cent chance of securing approval by the Senate of the United States this year." After that the measure would have to pass the House of Representatives.

United States seaway supporters prefer a joint undertaking, he said. "But, if Congress fails to act, we are four-square behind the all-Canadian project."

Plant Disease Feature Topic At Conference

Several Vancouver Island plant pathologists attended over the week-end the Canadian phytopathological meetings held at the University of British Columbia in conjunction with the sixth conference of the B.C. Academy of Sciences.

Plant disease troubles and methods of control were under fire during the day-and-a-half session. Scientific papers on the diseases of strawberries, stone fruits, corn, potatoes and ornamental plants were presented.

W. Jones, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Saanichton, presented a paper on a fungus disease of asters and zinnias not previously reported in British Columbia. It was first noticed in 1951.

W. R. Orchard, Saanichton, spoke on a disease of tulips caused by the fungus rhizoctonia solani, discovered only recently in Canada.

Another scientific paper on a fungus disease which attacks corn was presented by Dr. W. E. McKeen, also of the Saanichton laboratory. Dr. McKeen took part in a discussion of the activities of the national committee on plant disease diagnosis.

South African House Rejects Court Ruling

CAPETOWN, April 21 (Reuters).—The South African House of Assembly today rejected by a vote of 78 to 61 an opposition demand that the government accept a supreme court judgment which invalidated a government law on voters on mixed blood.

The law removed such voters from the common register. The nationalist government has refused to accept the ruling and plans legislation which would give parliament supreme authority over the courts.

Interior Minister Eben Dönges announced today he will introduce a bill Tuesday which will establish a "high court of parliament."

The motion voted down today was proposed by Jacob Strauss, leader of the United (opposition) Party. It has been debated for a week in the House of Assembly, where the Nationalist Party has a majority.

Queen Marks Birthday By Inspecting Guards

By R. B. MACLURKIN

WINDSOR, England, April 21 (Reuters).—The Queen, her children watching through a rain-spattered window, inspected the Grenadier Guardsmen in the courtyard of Windsor Castle today at a parade honoring her 26th birthday.

She wore a plain black coat and a tight-fitting black hat as she walked up and down the ranks of the guardsmen in their tall bearskins and grey capes. Prince Philip accompanied her.

Though it rained steadily, the Queen did not call on the household attendant who stood waiting in a doorway with an umbrella.

Prince Charles and Princess Anne were brought to the window by the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret. With them was Charles' best friend, Prince William, 10-year-old son of the Duke of Gloucester.

The parade was the highlight of a birthday spent quietly at this ancient rambling castle. The court is still in mourning for the late King.

The Queen rose early and spent an hour looking at the hundreds of greeting messages from statesmen and diplomats all over the world.

She has been honorary colonel of the regiment since she was 16. She must relinquish the post now because, as Queen, she has become colonel-in-chief of the brigade of all five regiments of guardsmen.

The brilliant, scarlet tunics of the guardsmen were covered by capes because of the weather. Their numbers included a detachment of the 2nd Battalion flown from Germany and another of the 3rd Battalion, which is in Egypt.

The Tin Mountain

ONE OF THE STRANGEST SIGHTS on the landscape of Canada these days is a mountain of tin cans, rising steadily higher. They contain pork, canned by the federal government. They also contain a large amount of taxpayers' money. And they are designed solely to maintain the high price of pork.

A few months ago, when pork prices began to fall, the government placed a legal floor under them. To make sure that prices fell no further the state began to buy up all the pork which the public could not afford to buy at that price. We do not know how much pork the state (which is to say the taxpayer) has bought so far, but it is plenty. About a month back the government already had used up all the cold storage space it could find and began to put the pork into cans. At that time we were told, 10,000,000 pounds of pork had been canned and much more doubtless has been added to the tin mountain since then.

Where does this particular form of economic insanity end? How long can the taxpayer afford to buy up, through taxes, the pork which he cannot afford to buy directly at existing prices. How long is a pork-bureaucracy to lay aside its pork instead of eating it? How can a government pretend to fight inflation if it deliberately, and at enormous cost, keeps goods off the market? How can it continue to say that it is struggling to hold prices down and cure inflation when it is holding up the price of an essential commodity like pork, and now is doing the same, on a still higher level, for beef?

The financial and economic insanity of all this is clear to anyone but a politician seeking to appease the farm bloc. But what about the physical problem of handling the tin mountain? It cannot be allowed to grow forever. At some point something must be done with the pork which the taxpayer has paid for. Will he be allowed to buy the canned pork at a reasonable price? Of course not. That would destroy the whole purpose of the policy. It would mean a reduction in pork prices.

Therefore, the only thing to do in the end will be to burn the pork, if it will burn, or throw it in the Great Lakes (as the New Deal threw the little pigs into the Mississippi back in 1933) or to give it away to some other nation. No doubt it will be given away in the end.

Way Open to Civic Harmony

SOME OF THE FOG OF DOUBT, suspicion and mistrust which has marred city council relationships with the city staff appears to have been blown away by the highly valuable sessions the mayor and aldermen spent Friday discussing the need for a job survey at the City Hall. The council wisely decided against employing an outside firm for that purpose.

During the meetings the new aldermen learned many facts about administration of which they were not previously aware. From newspaper reports it may be assumed that they now have a better knowledge and appreciation of the work of the city manager. They have shown sound common sense in asking him to proceed with job evaluation and a survey of the city's administrative structure along lines which properly fall within his jurisdiction.

It is gratifying for the citizens to learn—from the fragmentary announcements following Friday's meetings—that 20 new policies and activities have been carried out since Mr. Wyatt accepted the post of municipal manager in 1950 and that the new methods have saved Victoria about $100,000.

Council members might have informed themselves on such matters before this, had they done their homework. Conceivably some of the bickering, so

This might not be as crazy as it sounds. A gift of pork to Britain, for example, would be not only a generous gesture of friendship but a real contribution to Britain's diet. But if we are to give away pork or anything else in this fashion let us understand what we are doing. Let us agree that we propose to tax ourselves and, in addition, pay high pork prices and hold down our consumption of pork in order to help our friends overseas. Let us not imagine that we are somehow subsidizing the pork farmer and aiding our overseas friends for nothing. Let us be honest about it.

And in being honest let us understand at once that this policy is not based on any desire to help Britain, on any economic principle or on any concern for the welfare of the Canadian taxpayer and consumer. It is based solely on the desire to hold prices firm and protect the farmer.

In the case of pork and beef, no one in his senses wishes to see the farmer damaged for the prosperity of the farmer is essential to the prosperity of everyone in Canada. No one, in politics anyway, has said there should be no floor under pork or beef. No one can possibly say, however, that the floor-price principle was ever intended to hold prices almost at an all-time peak, beyond the capacity of many consumers to pay them and eat these products abundantly. On the contrary, a five-year-old boy should be able to understand that the only way for the farmer to solve the problem of his surplus is to reduce the price and thus enable the consumer to eat far more pork and beef. Let the price come down even a little and the consumption of meat will increase enormously. With a reasonable price we might even be able to arrest the mushroom growth of the government's tin cans before it outgrows the treasury's ability to support it.

"At the moment there is no sign of any such sanity. The next spasm of this curious process probably will be the government purchase of cheese. If the government is determined to support all agricultural price, at existing levels, or near them, why not support the price of B.C. pulp, which has lately fallen, or of any price which threatens to fall? Where is the end of all this? We doubt that the government—or the opposition parties which enthusiastically support it—has any idea.

destructive to the confidence of the staffs, might have been avoided.

The exercise of common sense late last week should help to overcome some of the unnecessary obstacles that have been erected in the path of whole-hearted civic co-operation. The realization of mistakes may have come a little late, but it has come, and the council now seems to be in a position to proceed on constructive lines toward more effective civic government and administration.

Apart entirely from the financial savings involved in turning the job survey over to the city manager, rather than to an outside firm, the council has shown good judgment in that decision. It has, among other things, demonstrated confidence in the official who should be in a position to carry out that work effectively, and it has avoided the inevitable implication that conditions were so bad, that departments were so inefficient, a clean up job was necessary and no one in the City Hall was competent to do it. Removal of that implication is of vital importance in restoring to departments the self-confidence they need if they are to carry out their work well.

The way is open for a return of harmony to the City Hall. If it is followed, Friday's meeting may go down as one of the most important held this year by the mayor and aldermen.

Television Boom—Job for the Home

ACCORDING TO A RECENT SURVEY of communications developments in the United States, "the new gold rush in television is beginning."

The Federal Communications Commission, it is reported, is thawing its freeze on telecasting stations. Many more may be expected in the future, despite the high cost of installation and the financial burden of operation.

What this development may mean to Victoria and other cities in Canada is something that only the television experts and students of public trends may gauge. It would appear, however, that as more transmitting facilities are created, the wider will be the demand for receiving sets and the more thorough will be the household absorption in the presentations TV offers.

From television's infancy, educationists in the United States have shown a clear understanding of the influence video can have on mass populations. They have sought with some success to reserve special channels for educational programs.

They cannot, however, prevent television audiences from turning to program matter that is non-educational. Already some criticism has been launched at the low comedy of some entertainers now

Dignity Restored

ALL WHO FAVOR RETICENCE AND decorum in the conduct of election campaigns could not fail to have been pained by the recently quoted remark of Social Credit candidate A. E. Beasley at Chemainus. They will be correspondingly cheered to learn that Mr. Beasley indignantly denies the quotation attributed to him.

"I did not say," he asserts, "that the Social Credit Party is being run by broken-down misfits who have been run out of the other parties." On the contrary, what I said was that 'the Social Credit League here is being run by a bunch of circus riders who have in the past ridden on nearly every bandwagon.'"

With this statement the air is cleared and any rancour the Social Crediters may have felt should be dissipated. The stigma of being called misfits has been removed. They are clearly seen now as circus riders on band-wagons. We are happy to assist in setting the matter straight.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

I HAVE been called a snob about most things, from religion to nonsense verse (two extremes that occasionally meet). Most of these accusations are libel or slander. Most, I say, not all. We're all snobs about something or other. If a man isn't proud of knowing a lord, then he may easily be proud of knowing the President of the Dead-Levelists and go round showing off about it. I haven't gone into the question of snobbery very deeply, since it would involve my judging all human values and most human souls, and at least I'm modest enough not to attempt THAT, just yet.

And anyhow, it wouldn't require much study to dig up the disconcerting fact that one man's snobbery is another man's considered opinion... an opinion that may be based almost as much on realities as on fashionable fallacies.

STILL, I take it that for general conversational purposes, a snob is a man who wishes to seem superior because he likes the wrong things. And, of course, hates the wrong things. And is indifferent about the wrong things. What the best things really are, dear chums, I leave entirely to you. I am all in favor of the Finer Things in Life (as the pensive young man remarked when about to hang himself). But what they are, and what makes them so fine, only Methuselah could explain. I for one beg to be excused.

BUT I caught myself being snobbish last night, all right. Not a doubt about it, worse luck. I was given some entirely delightful cheese, and made a pig of myself... an educated pig, I hope. When I was told it was Port Salut, it tasted even better, for even I had heard of that famous French cheese, and eaten it once or twice. Which was snobbish of me. But when I was told that it was Port Salut made in Denmark, it somehow tasted not quite so wonderful. Possibly by that time I'd had enough. But I'm afraid it was snobbish of me all the same. It was still the same cheese that had pleased me winningly. Yet it didn't taste the same to me, Snob, snob.

NOW, if I had been an expert on French cheese, there would have been a reason for this disappointment. It would sprout from chagrin at getting fooled. There's nothing like chagrin for making an expert feel suddenly he's had enough to eat. But my own let-down was simply foolish. Call that cheese what you like, it's still a mighty fine cheese. Even if you don't quite approve of one country pinching another country's geography, so that you get Havana cigars coming from Maryland and the wines of Burgundy coming from Australia or the Cape or the sunny Okanagan.

NO DOUBT the Danes would be wiser to name cheeses after the villages where they were really made, until quite lately. I am told, there were 2,500 cheeses by name, if not by taste, in Europe alone, because each little place was proud to put its own name on its own cheese. Perhaps modern marketing will hear of no such nonsense. In any event, whether the Danes are wise or foolish to pretend that Port Salut is really in Denmark, this cannot affect my own folly in spoiling my own fun.

SCIENCE, BAD LUCK TO IT

I HAVE heard that in Wisconsin they have made duplicates of all the world's famous cheeses, and have deceived the experts with these, time and again. I believe at least half that story, though I can't believe that every single farmhouse was identical with its model. Its stands to reason that laboratory methods would be death to certain flavors created by conditions that would give an innocent scientist ten thousand cat-fits. Yes, I know... food and science have combined magnificently in Denmark's great "Carlsberg beer." There are (or were) two biochemists doing wonders at that brewery, bless 'em. But this couldn't happen everywhere. Science usually makes beer chemically better while biologically worse. And anyhow, beer can stand more nonsense than cheese can, being more used to the city.

MORE SCIENCE, WORSE LUCK TO IT

I WAS plumb captivated to read, in Country Life, a letter from the Brewers' Society of England, saying that the art of malting is very skilled and subtle indeed. It is anything but a scientific matter of extracting the most malt from barley. It depends to a great extent on the good old human eye and palate. Indeed, only the most superficial changes in the barley (during malting) can be measured in a laboratory at all (hooray), and these changes are far too complex and intermingled to be reproduced artificially (ha ha). In fact, the nature of these individual transformations is only dimly understood as yet... and the lab boys in their white coats can laugh that one off.

Fluorine and Teeth

New York Times

That the addition of fluorine to a city's water reduces the incidence of dental decay, primarily in children who are not older than 12 and who have not yet developed their permanent teeth, has been known for at least seven years. If there are any doubts they should be resolved by the approval that fluoridation has received from the Public Health Service, the American Dental Association, the National Institute of Dental Research and the National Research Council. The American Public Health Association was therefore justified in recommending the installation of a fluoridation plant to treat New York City's water at an estimated cost of $500,000 annually, an estimate arrived at by allowing 10 cents a year per person. The opposition to fluoridation is numerically small but loud. Its arguments have not impressed either physicians or dentists as a whole. More to the point is the acceptance of fluoridation by five million Americans who live in sixty-three cities in sixteen states and who have been drinking fluoridated water every day for years.

New Lures—Same Old Hook

As Our Readers See It

ESQUIMALT GRANTS

I feel it my duty in view of press reports to correct what I consider to be a misstatement of facts in respect to the above "Grants."

1. Under the grant regulations Esquimalt does not qualify for the grant inasmuch as the municipality does not supply municipal services to the department of national defense, i.e., water, light, power and fire protection, etc.

2. The grant is based on the mileage of road used by the department of national defense and automatically becomes chargeable to that department through its estimates.

3. I want to exonerate the council of having permitted the transfer of this grant from the finance department to the department of national defense. The council had no say in the matter to drive home my point and with due respect I am using the term "beggars are no choosers."

In conclusion I want to say that our present reeve is in possession of these facts and I sincerely hope that the reeve can get an increase in this grant and he has my blessings and support.

RIGHT TO DISSENT

The recent court case in which Mr. Lynn Gale had the honesty, sincerity and courage to refuse to take the oath in the conventional way for British courts of justice, that is by "kissing the book," raises some interesting problems.

Suppose an affirming juror (and one hopes there will be many more now) is on a jury to investigate a citizen's death, a very common case in our courts. If the deceased is found to have died of natural causes that would surely be a civil case. On the other hand if the dead person had been murdered it would be a criminal case of very serious character and an affirming juror would under present B.C. law apparently invalidate the whole proceedings.

Affirmation is allowed in the United Kingdom, from which source all British law is derived. In Canada we hear much of the right of every person freely to worship God in any way they wish, but we never hear the equal right being vouchsafed to persons who are quite unable to accept the claims of some particular religion.

Their position and convictions should be respected, without social and economic sanctions being enacted against them as they are now, without their political ideas (if any) being made suspect or even their loyalty to their country questioned.

Religion and politics are entirely different spheres; there can be no excuse for confusing one with the other.

If a prospective juror (probably called to court much against his will) desires to affirm through sincere conviction, he is usually asked, I understand, if he believes in God. In this case the juror is surely entitled to ask the court to give a definition of the deity, before he answers that question. Can a Unitarian believing in one God swear on a book which teaches the Trinity?

Again I would make a belated protest against the disgusting and unhygienic performance of "kissing the book," a better way of spreading disease would be hard to imagine. Affirmation entails exactly the same penalties for perjury as does the biblical oath. Why do we not allow this alternative fully, freely and without question.

"HUMANIST."

VISITORS AND RIGHTS

The Canadian ambassador in Brussels has refused to grant Mme. Isabelle Blume a visa to make a speaking tour of Canada to start from Vancouver on April 18. Mme. Blume is a member of the Belgian parliament and a professor of Literature.

Canada has pledged herself "jointly" and "separately" under Article 56 of the U.N. Charter to "promote" and "achieve" human rights and fundamental freedoms. Canada is "separately" preparing a Bill of Rights and "jointly" working on two Covenants on Human Rights.

Article 11 of the covenant states: "Anyone is free to return to the country of which he is a national."

WILLIAM MITCHELL,
Vancouver, B.C.

HIGHWAY PROBLEM

Regarding the contentious question of where the speedway to Patricia Bay and the Island Highway should enter the city, I would like to submit the following: Hillside Ave., which is and probably will be one of the principal interconnecting arterial streets in the city I would suggest should overpass Douglas and Government Streets.

Hillside is 55 feet wide between curbs thus allowing 40 feet passover, still leaving 15 feet for a one-way street around the southeast corner, so as not to spoil that busy corner.

The overpass allowing 13 feet clearance and 4 feet for structural steel and pavement would be 15 feet. Allowing for a seven per cent grade on the ramps would bring the end of same 215 feet from side of Douglas and Government at both ends. There is a parking space on the northeast corner which if acquired would allow Hillside to be widened so as to funnel the traffic to both the speedway and Island Highway in both directions. Rock Bay Ave. to be used for Gorge Rd. North, Esquimalt west and south and John Street east to get back to Government and Douglas as used at present.

There should be no cross-cut traffic between Douglas and Gorge Rd. Gorge traffic should be along Government St. or Rock Bay Ave., and would be absorbed on the lateral streets along Government St. By following this plan the gas stations that are now located on the corner would not be adversely affected, as cars could pass right under overhead span into either highway. Traffic going south into the town area from Hillside can be drained off on through streets.

Two Projects

WATERSHED LOGGING

Since my letter to you of April 3 which you were good enough to publish in your issue of the 5th, the writer has had an opportunity of visiting the Cedar River Watershed used by the city of Seattle for its water supply and seeing the actual logging of this area in operation under the forest management plan. This management has been in effect for the past 26 years and it has been referred to by the author of a book recently published called "Forests and Men" as a well managed watershed.

There would not appear to be any logical reason why a similar operation could not be put into effect on the Sooke Lake and Goldstream watersheds although these combined are only 13 the area of the Seattle watershed.

Of the Seattle watershed the city only owns 23 of the land and timber, the remainder being owned by the U.S. federal government and private corporations. The city holds agreements with both the federal government and the private interests whereby only a certain area of timber is logged every year and then in only small blocks of from 40 to 160 acres each, so as to permit natural reforestation.

Practically all the city-owned land was logged 40 to 50 years ago and the second growth timber on it has made excellent growth which provides a better ground coverage than the virgin forests, in fact much more snow can be seen lying in storage under the smaller trees.

Quoting from the Seattle Times of April 6, 1952: "To neglect to harvest a mature tree and allow it to rot and fall is far more wasteful than to cut it and put part of it to good use. If you want to see Mother Nature's way of replacing a forest, inspect a virgin tract and see what happens to trees that outlive their maturity. That is a principle of forest management that conservation enthusiasts sometimes forget."

After visiting the Seattle watershed one must conclude that objections to forest management are due to ignorance and although the Water Board has already voted to adopt this policy, a visit would enable them to see for themselves how a water supply can be preserved and at the same time material advantage taken of the natural resources of the area.

PORTAGE INLET

With regard to the proposed $9,000,000 development on Portage Inlet, it is necessary to point out that not all of the residents in this area are in favor of it. We, who have bought places on the inlet, did so for the serene and beautiful surroundings and to end our days here. A race track will bring those followers of races, the majority of whom are considered undesirable. Our beautiful trees will be sacrificed. This will be called "progress."

As the inlet is at present, it is a beautiful little spot for canoeists and boaters. We had hoped the canal would be cut through so that larger craft could use it without charge, and fishing encouraged. This project is only for those who can pay for it. Our homes mean more to us than a few dollars.

Doesn't anyone realize that the beauty of Victoria is what brings the tourists, if that's what you want? Don't let us hand over Victoria to American interests. We certainly want progress in the city, we want modern homes, but when we get homes in surroundings we have chosen, we do not want to be pushed out for race tracks and amusement parks. There is plenty of undeveloped land around Thetis Lake and the Highlands district where homes would not be broken up.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"THE CASE of Roscoe De Lude," said the Elevator Man, "created a lot of attention at the time. Medical men followed the progress of his disease with intense interest. But even towards the end, when he was more than slow to do advance. There was little they could do, really, but watch its inexorable march to a tragic conclusion. The difficulties of treatment were increased by the fact that there were no other known cases on record. The knowledge they gained from his illness was largely wasted. There has never been another case since. Going down!"

"De Lude," said the Elevator Man, "as you likely will remember, started out by suffering hallucinations in a minor way. For instance, nearly the whole town saw as a miracle when the jaguars hockey team goalies successfully stopped 59 shots on goal in the final period of the deciding game. I didn't see any miracle, Roscoe insisted. 'It was merely the placing of pads and stick in front of the puck.' It was things like that that people first began to notice, 'Spring fever—bah!' De Lude used to say. 'It's just a matter of temperature and humidity.' About Christmas time the thing began to take hold of him. Mention of Santa Claus roused him to a high pitch of excitement. He spent hours of each day proving to people, even strangers, that Santa was just a hired man dressed up in a red costume. It was about then that friends took him to a doctor. But the malady was far advanced. Lower main!"

"Within a year," said the Elevator Man, "De Lude had completely changed. While the whole town was talking about seeing Cadborosaurus, he kept rushing in to the newspaper offices claiming he'd spotted a sea lion off Oak Bay, or a misshaped log near Brothie Ledge. Naturally, the editors ignored him. It got to a point where whenever a flying saucer was seen in the sky, De Lude came in to report a meteorological balloon, a sun glint on a cloud or a high-flying seagull. Inevitably, the matter soon was a laughingstock. The public attitude preyed on him. He took to a hermit-like existence, and wasted away. Neighbors found him one day breathing his last. Just before the end he roused himself. 'No soul, just meat,' they thought they heard him mutter. He fell back. Later on, thinking it over, they realized that what he must have said was, 'My soul just freed.'"

Icebergs

New York Times

The U.S. Coast Guard has learned that man is still too puny to eradicate the icebergs, and consequently confines its activities to warning shipping away from them. This is accomplished by two daily broadcasts to the ships, and often the diversion of the ships to a more southerly, slightly longer route.

This service is carried on quietly. It is little known by the tens of thousands of passengers who cross the Atlantic between March and July for whose benefit it was organized. This lack of publicity is the finest tribute to the job.

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE
RECORD TO DATE, 1935—
424.6 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: The completely cloudless weather that B.C. has enjoyed for the past two days is coming to an end. A weak disturbance was moving over the north coast this morning accompanied by a few showers. Cloud from this system has already spread into the northern interior and some cloudiness is expected to reach the south coast tonight and the southern interior Tuesday, but shower activity in these regions will be slight. Although there will be sunshine at intervals on Tuesday, daytime temperatures will be lower in most districts.

Pressure Still Threatens Dam

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask.
April 21 (AP).—Hard-pressed Duncrain Dam still holds today, despite flood waters building up behind.

The 5,000-foot, earth-and-concrete barrier holds back a lake 16 miles long, three-quarters of a mile wide and roughly 35 feet deep. This city of 7,500 population is 25 miles downstream from the weakened dam.

Officials in charge expressed hope Sunday night that the dam would hold.

"Still critical" was the way Dr. L. B. Thompson, prairie farm rehabilitation administration director, described the situation at the dam.

Water is still rising in the reservoir behind the dam. Intake is estimated at 1,400 cubic feet a second, while only 1,000 cubic feet a second escapes from two outlets.

But at the focal point of the danger, a $200,000 concrete spillway undermined around its lower perimeter by soil erosion, water is also escaping.

BUILD BUFFER DAM
Engineers worked hurriedly to construct a buffer dam behind the disintegrating spillway to help relieve the pressure. Also under consideration are plans to construct a wooden flume, a U-shaped trough to extend over the length of the outlet and permit passage of water through two flood gates closed Friday when the spillway began to break up.

All organizations have co-operated throughout the emergency. Three Regina construction firms have volunteered earth-moving equipment. Two dragline power-shovels have come from other centres. Some caterpillar tractor operators have stayed on the job 27 hours at a stretch.

This city is preparing to meet any emergency. Citizens in low-lying areas have been placed on an alert. An emergency radio communication system is maintained between the dam and the city.

Thus citizens will have ample warning of any dam break.

Other evacuation of the 490 families who will be affected if the dam fails to hold continued. A number have vacated their homes of their own accord.

Evacuees are being quartered in homes on higher ground and in the incomplete Union-Hospital. Army units have set up a civil defense organization. Two thousand blankets, 400 double-decker cots, 1,000 mattresses, five portable cookers, 130 lanterns, 300 pairs of high rubber boots, two assault boots and six stretchers are on hand.

Elsewhere in flooded southwest Saskatchewan the situation improved greatly over the weekend. At Eastend, where Frenchman Creek last week forced mass evacuation of the town, clean-up operations continued as flood waters receded. It will be some time before residents will be allowed to return to their homes.

Found Diseased, Prize Herd Slain
ELYDEN, England, April 21 (Reuters).—A prize herd of 163 Guernsey pedigree cattle owned by Lord Iveagh, 78-year-old brewer, was destroyed on his 23,000-acre estate here Sunday night because a bull had foot-and-mouth disease. Value of the herd was about £18,000.

The outbreak here is part of an epidemic of foot-and-mouth which has swept part of eastern England recently. Since the beginning of the year 33 confirmed outbreaks have occurred.

Government agriculture experts believe birds transmitted the disease.

HIBBEN'S CLOSE

BEHIND THE SIGNS
WITH Jim Nesbitt

Hibben's Close at Cadboro Bay commemorates one of Victoria's pioneer business men, Thomas Nesbitt Hibben.

An American, Hibben was born in Charleston, North Carolina in 1829. At 21 he joined the active-seekers-for-the-California-gold rush, later settling down in San Francisco to operate a small book and stationery store.

In 1851 he joined in the gold rush to the Cariboo, but seeing Victoria as a growing place he purchased a small book and stationery store and stayed here. The store for years was a sort of club in Victoria, with the bookmen gathering each Saturday night to discuss politics and business around the pot-bellied stove, or in summer time sitting on the wooden porch overlooking the water.

Mr. Hibben expanded his business until it became one of the largest of its kind in the Northwest. He died in Victoria in 1880.

Port Renfrew 'Highway Hike' Plans Proceed

Tentative plans for what will likely go down in local history as "Harrison's Hike" are now under way.

It is the project for an on-the-spot study of terrain from Port Renfrew to Jordan River in connection with the hoped-for completion of the West Coast Road.

Mayor Claude Harrison was asked by interested parties to lead a hiking party over the route. A provincial government engineer will go along.

Although the distance is only about 10 miles "as the crow flies" actual distance to be covered will be about 40 miles according to the mayor.

He hopes to stage the trek early in May and have the party camp out in the forest two nights. He stressed, however, that plans are still in the tentative stage.

"The old horse trail is completely obliterated," he said. The mayor hopes to have the party fly to Port Renfrew and then hike to Jordan River. One party might leave from Jordan River and meet a group from the port, halfway, he said, depending on how many people want to take part.

The mayor feels a smaller group will be preferable. Chamber of Commerce officials are among those interested.

Jewels Reported Found in Miami Kidnapping Case

HAVANA, CUBA, April 21 (AP).—Police Sunday announced arrest here of Charles Johnson, wanted in connection with a kidnapping case in Miami, Fla., last week.

Enrique Fernandez Parajon, chief of Cuba's police said Johnson was arrested today and all the jewels paid as ransom were recovered.

Johnson, 33-year-old ex-convict, is believed to have left Miami for Havana by plane Friday after keeping a jump ahead of Miami police throughout a day-long chase.

Richard Richter, 61-year-old son of a Miami jeweler, was picked up by taxi cab at the private school which he attends, and taken to Doctor's Hospital in Coral Gables, some 10 or 15 miles away, while the ransom deal was made Thursday.

His father, Daniel Richter, paid $15,000 in jewels and $200 in cash.

500 Attend Vimy Service

LONDON, April 21 (Reuters).—Canadian veterans of two world wars Sunday attended the annual Vimy Memorial Service of the Canadian Veterans Association in London.

Five hundred veterans, representing the 10,000 Canadian ex-servicemen now living in Britain, paraded for the drum-head service on the Horse Guards parade.

The service, in which those who fell at Vimy Ridge in 1917 were specially remembered, was conducted by Rev. E. J. Hood, chaplain to the Canadian Veterans Association.

Acting for the Canadian High Commissioner, Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Slemmon, commander of the R.C.A.F. training command and at present in Britain on liaison duties, placed the High Commissioner's wreath on the Cenotaph in Whitehall.

Clapper Award For Hightower

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP).—John M. Hightower, Associated Press reporter on international affairs, Saturday night won the eighth annual Clapper memorial award for "exceptionally meritorious" work during 1951.

The $500 prize was voted by five newspaper editors, serving as judges, for Hightower's general coverage of the state department at Washington last year.

It was the second journalistic award in a row for Hightower. April 2, he was named winner of the Sigma Delta Chi distinguished service award for Washington correspondence. Sigma Delta Chi is a professional journalism fraternity.

The Clapper prize is given in memory of the late Raymond Clapper, Washington reporter and columnist, killed in a plane crash during the Second World War.

Selection of Successor to Ike Much Complicated

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP).—Top military leaders are finding the decision on a successor to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower extraordinarily difficult—even though they are reported to feel that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway is the man for the job.

Officials said Saturday that one of the complications in making a final decision is the fact that Korean truce negotiations are in a critical phase. No one can tell whether Ridgway a few weeks hence will be conducting a limited war, continuing peace talks or managing the United Nations' side of an armistice.

Another difficulty is the fact that Eisenhower's present chief of staff in the North Atlantic Alliance command in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has powerful supporters as Eisenhower's successor. These supporters include Eisenhower himself, members of Congress and men in the military headquarters here.

A third factor is that 13 other countries have a voice in the decision and they have not been officially heard from yet. They are the allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, all of whom Eisenhower has served as commander of U.S. and N.A.T.O. forces in Europe.

Eisenhower is due home by

June 1, a few weeks before his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination reaches its climax in that party's national convention. Presumably, therefore, his successor will be named by June 1 although there

Girl Swept to Death Over 640-Foot Falls

OROVILLE, Calif., April 21 (AP).—A 15-year-old girl scout was swept to her death Sunday over 640-foot Sutter Falls—one of the United States' highest waterfalls.

Beverly Fricke was playing on the bank of a Feather River tributary with other members of her Sacramento, Calif., Girl Scout troop when she slipped into the churning stream and was carried over the falls.

is speculation among some military men here that his place could be filled temporarily by a deputy if it became desirable to delay a decision.

The best information indicates that the Joint Chiefs of Staff concluded a week or more ago that Ridgway should be given the N.A.T.O. assignment when Eisenhower puts it aside. Their determination, however, does not stand as a final decision because of the uncertain factors which might affect the situation before action could be taken.

After-Party Crash Kills B.C. Couple

PORT MOODY, B.C., April 21 (CP).—A youth and a girl returning from a resort-town dance were killed early Sunday when the car in which they were riding crashed into a cement bridge abutment here.

They were identified as Charles Stewart Kyle, about 23, and 16-year-old Joanne Louise King, both of Vancouver.

Ronald Gordon, of Vancouver, named as the driver, is in hospital with possible head and chest injuries and burns.

Gordon was reported in good condition. The three had attended a dance in White Rock, B.C., 20 miles south of New Westminster, and were en route to Vancouver when the accident occurred.

Port Moody police said an inquest will be held in Vancouver Tuesday.

Mom's Chocolate Cake
was the Hit of the Evening!

AND no wonder! Mother's Chocolate Cake is something to marvel at! Rich and moist and deep red-brown, with flavor that's really out of this world. Everybody had brought her best cooking to the Church Supper—but that Chocolate Cake took top honors!

"There's no trick to it," Mother said. "It's just a matter of using real chocolate—Baker's Chocolate. You simply can't get that gorgeous, deep-brown color and luscious, satisfying chocolate flavor any other way. Baker's has been a favorite in our family for generations."

Baker's is all real pure chocolate. The finest of cacao beans, full of glorious tropical flavor—roasted to perfection, ground to satin smoothness, and moulded in handy individually wrapped 1-ounce squares. Nothing is added, not one single iota of wonderful richness is removed.

Try Mother's delicious Mocha Chocolate Cake.

Another Famous Baker's Chocolate Treat

Baker's Dot Chocolate is a wonderful semi-sweet blend of real chocolate with extra cocoa butter added. Though made especially for easier, better candy-making, Dot Chocolate is grand for quick sauces and frostings. Recipes on the packages. Look for the red and yellow package.

MOCHA CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 cups sifted Swiss Doves
Cake Flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cup coffee syrup*
2 cups sugar
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten

Sift flour once, add salt and baking soda; sift three times. Combine chocolate, butter and coffee syrup in top of double boiler; stir constantly over boiling water until chocolate is melted. Cool, add sugar. Add flour and milk alternately, in two parts, stirring until blended. Add vanilla and eggs; beat 2 minutes. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Delicious with mocha frosting and border of chopped pecans.

*Coffee Syrup: Bring 1 1/4 cups water to boil with 3/4 tablespoons sugar; add 1/4 cup bear, coffee, and let stand 5 minutes. Strain of cheesecloth.

Weather Aids Monster Saskatchewan Harvest

REGINA, April 21 (CP).—The tempo of Saskatchewan's greatest spring harvest is increasing after more than a week of excellent drying weather. Grain men report that wheat harvested is in very good condition.

The harvesting is going on in many scattered points in the province. But sufficient grain has not yet been threshed to determine the effect of wintering out on grade and yield.

Due to the high moisture-holding capacity of the heavy soil of the Regina plain, it is unlikely that harvesting will be general in that area for another week.

Observers in Regina say that the farmers could not have had better weather for the spring harvest than has prevailed for the last week. The outlook is for continued above-normal temperatures and very little rain.

The farmers have the task of getting in 88,000,000 bushels of wheat and 56,000,000 bushels of oats and barley. It was left in the fields when premature snow and cold halted harvesting last fall.

Fatal Accident

QU'APPELLE, Sask., April 21 (BUP).—Twenty-two-year-old Robert T. Stovin of Regina died in Qu'Appelle Hospital Sunday.

Queen Mother Suggested as Vice-Regent

LONDON, April 21 (Reuters).—A Sunday newspaper report that the Queen Mother might become Australia's governor-general was described by an Australian spokesman Sunday as "most novel piece of speculation."

The Sunday Empire News said in a front-page story that the Queen Mother was expected to be appointed governor-general "at her own wish."

The idea will be discussed, it added, when Robert Menzies, Australian prime minister, comes to London later this year for talks with Prime Minister Churchill.

Archbishop Would Have St. John Canada's Saint

TORONTO, April 21 (CP).—Most Rev. Phillip Carrington, Anglican archbishop of Quebec said Sunday that Canada should have a patron saint. He nominated St. John the Baptist.

"St. John should meet with the approval of French Canada," he told Toronto's St. George's Society. Canadians of Scottish origin should also approve.

"John the Baptist was the patron saint of Scotland before they ousted him and adopted St. Andrew. You meet a Scotsman and 10 chances to one he's called Jock. Jock, not Andrew. And the Jock is after St. John the Baptist."

More 'Things' Seen In Ontario Skies

WINGHAM, Ont., April 21 (CP).—Margaret Pennel of Wingham Sunday reported seeing a strange object in the sky with a ball of fire at its tail.

A bus driver employed by Western Motorways also said he saw the object 18 miles south of here.

Miss Pennel described the object as a globe or sphere giving off a vapor trail. She said it cleared the horizon in three minutes.

R.C.A.F. officials in Toronto, London and Ottawa said no R.C.A.F. aircraft were in the air at the time. Wingham is 65 miles north of London.

following a highway accident when the lights of his motorcycle failed.

R.C.M.P. report Stovin died three hours after his motorcycle plunged off No. 35 highway at a sharp curve near the town of Qu'Appelle.

They say the lights of his motorcycle went out just before Stovin reached the dangerous bend.

Dr. A. J. McDougall of Qu'Appelle said no inquest would be held.

Winnipeg Tot Killed

WINNIPEG, April 21 (BUP).—Week-end accidents in Winnipeg and St. Boniface have resulted in the death of a 16-month-old boy and injured six other persons, one of them seriously.

Dead is little William Pankiw, of Ottawa, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pankiw.

The youngster was killed Saturday when he fell from a wagon his father had just purchased for him and was run over by a car. Police said the car was driven by Nick Denys.

Injured in other accidents during the week-end were 65-year-old Raymond Champagne, St. Boniface; 72-year-old Barney Montague, 12-year-old Early Sands, 70-year-old Mrs. Rose Tapper, Mrs. Mary Richie Simpson, 30- and three-year-old Lorraine Leblanch, Transcona.

Champagne, believed to be the victim of a hit-and-run accident, is in St. Boniface Hospital in critical condition. He was knocked down while attempting to cross Tache Street near the Despins Street intersection. The nature of Champagne's injuries has not yet been determined.

Alberta Artist Wins $3,000 Guggenheim Fellowship at Paris

By MICHAEL O'MARA

PARIS, April 21 (Reuters).—Wilfred Roloff Beny, 27-year-old Canadian artist who Sunday night was awarded a $3,000 Guggenheim fellowship in art, is riding the crest of a wave of popularity unusual in contemporary art.

He has a one-man show running here, another set for Milan in June and a third scheduled for London next fall.

And the fellowship makes him "free as a bird to do what I want" for a year. What he wants is to disappear for a year to "paint furiously," probably at his Rocky Mountain log cabin at Waterton Lake, Alta.

The Alberta prairie boy is a minor rage in European art circles, but insists he doesn't want to lose touch with his Canadian background and sources of inspiration.

He's delighted with the fellowship, but actually he's something of a rarity among young painters. He has managed to pay his way—nearly—by sales of lithographs and original oils and water-colors since he first won recognition in Canada about 10 years ago. The rest of the expenses have been borne by his father, Charles Beny, an auto dealer at Lethbridge, Alta.

"Up to the age of seven," said Beny junior, sitting in his luxurious apartment hard by the Champs Elysees, "I thought of being a doctor. Then I decided to be a painter. And I have been painting ever since."

"By the time I was 15," he said, "I even had the nerve to give lectures on art."

He studied at the University of Toronto and in 1944 was the first undergraduate ever allowed a one-man show at Hart House gallery.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

SASKATOON—Victoria Cougars' chances of prolonging the best-of-seven series for the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship tonight rests solely on the club's ability to return to the form it displayed against New Westminster in the semifinal series.

The Cougars who played here Saturday night and the Cougars who trail in this series three games to one are not the Cougars who surprised everyone with their Cinderella victory of the league-champion Royals.

Their defensive play has been extremely lax and, the Cougars, ever the opportunists, have taken full advantage of this weakness.

Time and time again the Cougars would have an excellent scoring opportunity only to see the Quakers score or be beaten out of a goal by sensational netminding of Jerry Cotnoir on the return play.

Cotnoir is in no way to blame for the avalanche of goals the Quakers poured by him Saturday. As in last Wednesday's game in Victoria, he has been the bulwark between a respectable margin and a complete rout.

The Kid Line of Reg Abbott, Andy Heberton and Bob Frampton has been the top offensive unit but poor shooting has nullified their efforts.

Others have scintillated at times on individual rushes, but the overall defensive performances of the club has left much to be desired.

The players themselves are the first to admit it and tonight's game should see a return to defensive hockey and on this phase of the game may rest the future of what is known down here as "the Wonder Team."

Eddie Explains It for the Boys

Despite the overwhelming odds against them, the Cougars to a man feel they can still beat the Quakers. Eddie Dorohoy expressed the club's sentiments well when he said: "We've been down before and come back. This series is far from over." Eddie was at his best in Saturday's game and was awarded one of the silver spoons given to the three outstanding players as picked by a panel of press and radio men. George Senick and Tom Fowler were the other recipients of this honor.

Coach Roger Leger, who has not been himself since losing a fight with penicillin Tuesday, and who played one of his poorest games of the season, Saturday, was feeling much better Sunday.

"I've quit taking those pills," he said.

Leger has had the four stitches removed from his forehead as a result of the injury he suffered Monday night. Dorohoy was the only other Cougar to require medical treatment, suffering a bone bruise on his foot. However, the Saskatoon club physician reported the injury was only a minor one and would not hamper Dorohoy's play.

The outstanding player in the series by far has been Senick and the credit for the transformation of the former "Pecks Bad Boy" of the P.C.H.L. into one of its brightest stars is given to coach Doug Bentley.

Senick, who until recently carried a chip on his shoulder daring anyone to knock it off, now turns the other cheek. His three goals Saturday were well deserved and long overdue.

There were more National League and ex-N.H.L. stars floating around the Saskatoon arena than one could shake a stick at.

There was Chuck Raynor (Rangers) whom Victoria fans will remember; Max Bentley (Toronto); Vic Lynn (Cleveland); Gerry Couture (Cleveland); and Freddie Hucl (Chicago), and all of whom paid their compliments to and renewed acquaintances with members of both teams, following the game.

Roger Was Just Too Tired

Lynn was surprised at the clean play. "I've heard this was a really rough league," he said, "but tonight's game certainly wasn't any body-bruising affair."

He looked straight at Leger when he made the remark and the Cougar coach wryly answered, "I think Monday's game will be different. I was too weak tonight."

Raynor thought both teams had played well until the Quakers started to roll right over the Cougars in the third period and added, "The score wasn't any indication of the play-up-until-that time."

Rumor down here has it that Frank Currie, ex-coach of the Edmonton Flyers, will be at Calgary next year. Though Currie has denied the report, it is believed he has been tendered a feeler bid. Memorial Arena manager Joe Dukowski should like this Bentley said after the game. "Guess I shouldn't have been so outspoken about the Victoria Ice. Ours was really bad tonight, especially in the first period." But this could be expected as the temperature at game time was 65 degrees; after a high in the afternoon of 82.

Several members of the Cougars have relatives here for the series. Bob Ballance's mother and father paid the right-winger a surprise visit while Reg Abbott's father is up from Winnipeg. Joe Evans was seen dining with his father-in-law.

Tickets are as hard to get here as in Victoria, even the Victoria players being bothered by newly-found well-wishers.

Bud Cross, the tonsorial artist, ex of Fort Street, wishes to be remembered to all his friends in Victoria, especially Les O'Connor.

Hornets Ride to Calder Cup on Hannigan's Back

PROVIDENCE, R.I., April 21 (UP)—To little Ray Hannigan—a pint-sized 25-year-old sharpshooter—went all the plaudits of Pittsburgh tonight for his "sudden death" goal that gave the Hornets a 32 triumph over the Providence Sunday night and the American Hockey League's Calder Cup championship.

Threading his way through the Providence defense, the five-foot, eight-inch, 135-pound Hannigan skated into the clear, took a relay from Phil Maloney and Chuck Blair, and plunked the winning goal at 6:08 of the second overtime period.

For the triumphant Hornets, it marked the culmination of a season-long effort to wrest the coveted Calder Cup away from the Cleveland Barons, who defeated them in the playoff finals last year.

For the Ontario-born Hannigan, playing his third season in professional hockey, it marked the most important goal of his career.

Owning a three-games-to-two lead going into the contest, the Hornets took the lead at 1:09 of the first period when right wing Andy Barbe scored on passes from Rudy Migay and Bobby Solinger.

Providence tied the game while Pittsburgh was a man short in the first minute of the second period when Barry Sullivan drove the puck past goalie Gil Mayer. Midway in the period, Tim Horton scored unassisted to give the Hornets a 2-1 edge but Ken Smith's goal at 18:46 knotted the score until Hannigan's clincher.

Heavy Entries Canine Trials

The heaviest entry on record—Canadian unusually so—is the claim of officials handling the International Retriever Trials to be held in Parksville Saturday and Sunday.

V. A. Crawley, Nanaimo, reports that all plans have been set for the event, which over the years has gained wide international interest.

R. M. Abernethy, Vancouver, and Jack Smythe, top B.C. dog trainer, will be among the judges for the canine tournament.

Some of the best retrievers in the Pacific Northwest will be brought to the Up-Island community to compete for international and Canadian resident laurels.

What an Idea for a Chapeau

To help prove the fact that Salinas, California, where the Victoria Tyees spent their time in spring training, is strictly cattle country, is this set of headgear displayed so prominently by Ferdinand, the Salinas rodeo bull. According to the bats held by Tyee manager Cec Garriott and third baseman Don Pries, the horns measure more than five feet in length. Tyees will open their first game of the season against Yakima in the apple valley Tuesday night.

SAWCHUK GOES UNDER KNIFE

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Terry Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wings' star goalie, was slated to undergo an operation on his right elbow this morning.

Sawchuk entered Detroit Osteopathic Hospital after X-ray examinations had shown bone chips which needed immediate removal. It will be the third time he has had such an operation.

Sawchuk disclosed he had been in constant pain for about a month with a recurrence of an old ailment.

"But I didn't say anything about it," he said. "I didn't want people to think I was alibi-ing in case I didn't play well in the playoffs."

McKiegan himself was nonchalant about the feat, one which transport department officials bluntly said could have cost him his life if it had not been for two nights of mild weather.

Lonely for his wife and five children, McKiegan set out with only a makeshift sail, a set of oars and his muscles for power.

Officially, he had resigned his job and his resignation had been accepted.

But the Transport Department had told him no boat was available to bring him to shore immediately.

McKiegan, although due to quit the island April 30, was impatient as he wanted to see his wife before she enters hospital shortly.

By radio he heard a fleet of fishing trawlers speaking to each other and to shore headquarters from the banks off Sable Island, due east of Halifax.

On the clear and mild Thursday night he saw the bobbing lights of the craft twinkling in the distance. He climbed into his dory and pushed through the pounding surf. Early Friday he shouted "ahoy" to the trawler Cape Lahave and asked the startled lookout if the ship was headed for Halifax.

"Not for several days," was the reply so McKiegan, still impatient, bent his oars once again toward the mainland.

After 46 hours in the open boat he hailed the Cape Agulhas.

He had served as radio operator aboard the Agulhas before taking the Sable job so he clambered aboard and decided to make the rest of the voyage home on comparative luxury.

The transport department, meanwhile, had instituted a search.

The R.C.A.F. search and rescue center had a plane from Greenwood, N.S., over the area and the federal ice breaker Edward Cornwallis was ordered to sea from Louisburg, N.S.

The Cornwallis picked McKiegan off the Agulhas and brought him to Halifax.

Transport department officials, although pleased he had come through without injury, were peeved.

"Frankly," said one, "it was a silly thing to do and he shouldn't have done it."

"Charging" on an Open-Hearth Furnace at Stelco's Hamilton Works—where steel is 100% made in Canada by a company owned by over 9,000 Canadian shareholders.

Facts about STEELMAKING
Great quantities of scrap are used in Steelmaking. As much as 50 percent of each "charge" delivered to the Open-Hearth Furnaces at Stelco is scrap.

Every 24 hours thirteen Open-Hearth Furnaces at Stelco use 2,200 tons of scrap. Canada requires over 2,690,000 tons of scrap each year.

The addition of scrap is indispensable for economical and large tonnage production of quality steel.

• The baker's oven feeds a nation's stomachs. But here is an oven that feeds its vital industries with steel. Steel men call it an Open-Hearth Furnace. They charge it with molten pig iron, scrap steel and ore. Then raise the temperature to a blazing, blistering 2900° to 3000°. When "the cooking is done", 275 tons of white hot, molten steel are ready to be poured into ingots weighing up to 14 tons each. From these are rolled or drawn the steel sheets, plates, bars, rods and wires which are needed in one form or another in every Canadian home . . . on every farm . . . in every industry . . . in peace or war.

Today those needs are greater than ever! Who knows what they may be tomorrow? Because Canada must have more and more steel for greater and still greater industrial production, Stelco is investing more than $50,000,000 now in expanding its complete—and completely Canadian—steelmaking facilities. This expansion includes the building of four giant new open-hearth furnaces. Out of them will come 650,000 additional tons of steel per year for industrial progress . . . for better living . . . for a stronger Canada.

ISLAND DIGEST

LADYSMITH, April 21—Fraternal Order of Eagles here will celebrate its 25th anniversary May 9 with a gathering at the agricultural hall. Guest speaker will be James B. Washington, Parkville, grand worthy outside guard of the Eagles and member of the Vancouver Aerie.

LADYSMITH, April 21—The city finished the year 1951 with a surplus of $2,516. R. S. Wood, city clerk and treasurer, told the city council at its last meeting.

NANAIMO, April 21—Anne Cook, Chemainus, was elected chairman of a B.C. council set up by provincial Teen Town mayors during their seventh annual conference here. Dave Popoff, Alberni, was elected vice-chairman, and Winnifred Nash, Nanaimo, secretary-treasurer.

Kenney Orders Alberni-Tofino Road Survey

Public Works Minister E. T. Kenney has ordered an immediate reconnaissance survey for an Alberni to Tofino highway.

The announcement came over the week-end in a wire to James Mowat, Liberal member for Alberni.

Boosters of the road, who have been over the country many times, say construction of such a highway would not pose any great engineering problem.

A suggested route would see the road flank Sproat Lake's north side, then cut through the Taylor River area, turning south after traversing Taylor's valley to follow the Kennedy River through to the coast for junction with the Tofino-Ucluelet road.

Bad Weather Keeps Ships in Shelter

SOOKE HARBOR, April 21—A strong west wind kept several types of craft tied at Sooke government pier and fishermen's float over the week-end.

The tug Island Rover was storm-bound while awaiting an opportunity to move log booms out of Jordan River. Owing to a large sand bar at the mouth of the river, it is possible for craft to enter the location only under favorable weather conditions.

Adding to the colorful scene created by the local fleet, and regular tie-up of the Sooke Harbor Fishing & Packing Company, were the tug Burrard Chief and several other fishing vessels.

PORT ALBERNI, April 21—A proposal to observe Monday store closing instead of Wednesday was soundly defeated by an 80 per cent majority vote at a meeting of Port Alberni District Retail Merchants' Association.

A few hours prior to the meeting a poll showed housewives preferred the present Wednesday closing.

Those in favor of the change argued that Monday closing would give staffs a better holiday, and would be more suitable to tourists, who usually arrive in mid-week.

DUNCAN, April 21—Frederick Jeffery, 82, retired stationery engineer and Genoa Bay resident since 1935, died Saturday in King's Daughters' Hospital.

Born in Algoma, Ont., he had been in B.C. since 1889. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

NANAIMO, April 21—Peter McNeven, 75, of Courtenay, died suddenly just a few minutes after taking his place at a joint Masonic banquet held here Friday night.

SABRE JET Pilot Off To Britain

LADYSMITH, April 21—Member of one of the finest and deadliest jet fighter squadrons ever developed in Canada is Flt. Lieut. Raymond Conti, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conti, Fourth Avenue.

He is with No. 439 "Sabre-Tooth Tiger" Squadron, R.C.A.F., which flies F-86 Sabre jets and is due to leave for England soon for service under N.A.T.O.

Although the squadron was only reformed last September, the 24 pilots have now reached a full operating peak of proficiency.

Flt. Lieut. Conti is from "farthest west" of any of the whole group. He is credited with being one of the first air cadets in B.C. to receive his wings. His early flying training was sponsored by Ladysmith Lions Club.

Salmon Arm P.C.'s Name A. B. Ritchie

A. B. Ritchie of Salmon Arm Saturday night was named Progressive Conservative candidate for the riding in the June 12 general election. The nomination was unanimous.

Mr. Ritchie was first elected to the B.C. Legislature as a Coalitionist in 1945, re-elected in 1949.

Orchard Talks On Perpetual Forest Yield

PORT ALBERNI, April 21—Two important meetings will be held in Alberni district tonight.

Dr. C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of lands and forests, will address a dinner meeting of three trade group boards on forest management licenses.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., will address a rally of Progressive Conservatives in support of the party's Alberni candidate in the June 12 election, A. C. Pitt Clayton.

Nanaimo Youths Pay For Rowdy Behavior

NANAIMO, April 21—Magistrate W. H. Jones, acting in the absence of Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts, fined three youths each $75 and gave them severe reprimands when they appeared before him on charges of creating a disturbance.

Roy Bell, 20, and Jimmy Fearon, 19, were involved in a fracas Easter week-end. Frank Cruell, 19, of Ladysmith, was fined for creating a disturbance when he crashed a Teen Town dance Friday night.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I herewith launch a formal request for impeachment proceedings against Tom Denny, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Denny, of all people, should know better. Or else he does not realize the sacred duties of his office. One of these duties is to encourage all people who see Caddy.

Yet one of Mr. Denny's very first statements after he was installed in office was to deprecate the very existence of Caddy. Mr. Denny, pointing to a sea-lion, said: "Tomorrow people will be saying they saw Caddy."

And sure enough, the next day there were several Caddy reports.

Mr. Denny's implication that Caddy is nothing but a sea-lion is against all the best tenets and beliefs of the Chamber of Commerce and all loyal Victorians.

Mr. Denny had better resign before any further trouble is caused.

Though weird in looks is Carborosaurus, He is no stranger than a flying saucer is.

I had occasion to be up and around Sunday morning when the dark velvet night was slowly pushed away by the greying dawn, and the stars winked out, one by one.

Much to my surprise, I discovered that other people were around and about at the fantastic hour of 5 on Sunday morning. A man in a brightly-colored sport shirt was feeding the equally brightly-colored ducks at Beacon Hill Park.

A foursome was teeing off at George Vale. The Island Highway was heavy with cars, their drivers sleepy-eyed but content in the morning air.

There is something about 5 o'clock in the morning—once you've forced yourself out of bed—that is entirely different from any other time of the day.

I heartily recommend all Victorians to arise at dawn and enjoy a beautiful city at its most beautiful.

(Especially on a Sunday, when you can go back to bed again.)

The post office has a word which fascinates me.

Every once in a while, the official bulletin to postmasters warns them to be careful in the "SORTATION" of mail.

Only, I submit, in a government bulletin will you find such a self-conscious word.

Overheard at the Empress cigar counter:

"If they are going to take off two cents from our dollars, I think we Americans should be PAID that 3 per cent tax you have here."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Two Chinese women pleaded guilty today in police court to charges of theft and were remanded for judgment to Wednesday.

Charged were June Lee, 19, of 1619 Government, and her sister, Mabel Yee, 35, same address.

Hudson's Bay Company store detective Harry Mills told the court the women were spotted taking several articles of clothing last Saturday.

St. Mary's Men's Guild will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, April 24, at 8 p.m., in the guild hall, Yale Street. Final meeting of the season.

Belmont Park town council will hold a general meeting in John Stubbs Memorial School at 8 o'clock. Topics for discussion will include children's playgrounds, transportation, and formation of a sports committee.

Alternative voting, to be used for the first time in British Columbia June 12, is being explained to senior high school students. Education Minister W. T. Straith said Saturday.

The explanation is being incorporated into lessons on citizenship.

Fifth Annual Drama Fete Starts Tuesday

Thirteen plays will be presented this week at the fifth annual South Vancouver Island Drama Festival with competitive performances scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at Victoria High School.

More than 75 amateur actors and actresses will be taking part. The best three plays during the competition will be presented together at an honor performance Saturday.

Each evening, first curtain will be at 8 o'clock.

Festival program is as follows: Tuesday—Cowichan Little Theatre, "Mr. Sampson"; Island Vagabonds, "The Illusionist"; St. Luke's Players, "When the Old Cock Crows."

Wednesday—St. Luke's Players, "Mr. Twombly Is Not Himself"; Royal Jubilee Drama Club, "A Room in the Tower"; Cowichan Little Theatre Guild, "Ben Hur Influence."

Thursday—Victoria Theatre Guild, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos"; Duncan Y.P. Drama Club, "Grey Bread"; St. Luke's Players, "The 72nd"; Columbine Drama Club, "White Iris."

Friday—Cedar Drama Club, "The Red Velvet Coat"; Cowichan Little Theatre Guild, "Campbell of Kilmohr"; St. Andrew's Cathedral Drama Club, "The Happy Journey."

Every-other-day deliveries in winter, and quantity discounts, would be more effective in lowering milk prices than letting stores sell a quart one cent cheaper, Henry G. Robinson, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, said today.

He spoke regarding the one-cent reduction permitted a Vancouver grocery chain by the B.C. Milk Board. The same reduction may be authorized here.

"A one-cent saving is not worth walking to the store for," Mr. Robinson said. "And if you send a youngster and he drops a bottle on the way home, there

Air-Sea Hunt For Fishboat Along Coast

An air-sea search was in progress today off the west coast of Vancouver Island for a fishing craft with two men aboard, missing for four days.

Names of the fishermen have not been divulged.

Being sought is the Rosalia, a 33-foot white-hulled trawler.

An R.C.A.F. Canoe from the air-sea rescue division, R.C.M.P. launches and fishing craft made a wide search for the missing craft Sunday and were on the job again this morning.

Up to press time the boat had not been sighted. Air force officers in Vancouver said the vessel, out of Aboussat, B.C., was last sighted halfway between Rafael Island and Estevan Point.

Fears for the safety of the two fishermen are accentuated by the fact the craft was seen heading for open water as gale warnings were hoisted last Friday.

Provincial voters in the June 12 election will increase by about 12,000 in the Greater Victoria area, W. H. Ryan, registrar of voters, estimated today.

Voters' list closes April 30. The registrar's office is located at 910 Gordon Street.

In the 1949 election there were 65,000 registered voters in Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt. This year Mr. Ryan expects between 75,000 and 78,000.

In 1949, the total number of registered voters in the province was 694,000. It is expected to be as high as 750,000 this year.

In the Greater Victoria area, more than 200 persons have been going from house to house checking to see if qualified persons are on the voters' list.

There are 32 registrars of voters throughout the province. Fred Hurley, chief electoral officer, said the work is proceeding smoothly.

St. Barnabas' Dedicated By Bishop

In the presence of a congregation which filled the nave, the new St. Barnabas' Anglican Church was dedicated Sunday evening.

Arriving at the west door, according to ancient custom, Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia, found it closed. From within Canon E. Munn, rector of the church, attended by his servers, asked that the sacred building be dedicated. When the bishop had given three loud knocks on the door with his pastoral staff, it was opened and he entered. Vested in cope and mitre, he proceeded to the altar.

Later the procession moved to the font, near the west door. After blessing it, the bishop blessed the lectern. He then in turn blessed the choir gallery, which in the new church is not in the chancel but over the west end of the nave. Finally, the altar was blessed, after which the Veni Creator was sung.

In a brief sermon Canon Munn spoke of the purpose of the building of a church.

The structure stands on rising ground at the corner of Belmont Avenue and Begbie Street, with a spacious view of much of the city. It is built of concrete blocks, with a trim of wood. It has a truss roof, laminated fir pillars rising from the sides and sweeping in a curve to the ceiling at its peak. The altar, of oak, the fine brass eagle lectern, the silver processional cross and the stone font were brought from old St. Barnabas.

The new church, which is a bright and well-appointed building, takes the place of the former church, a wooden structure, at the corner of Cook and Caledonia, which was established about 1900, and was formerly a hall.

Executive meeting of the Esquimalt Legion branch will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the clubrooms, 622 Admirals. Ted Baker and Frederick Fry have been appointed branch auditors. Mr. Francis was named as an alternate.

When Robert Paterson Rithet escorted his bride, the eldest daughter of Alexander Munro, to Holybank, he took her to the home which would be hers the rest of her life.

There she experienced the happiness and tears, the gaiety and sorrow, of a long and full life.

Holybank in the past was a house of life and excitement. Lived coachmen wheeled shiny carriages up the driveway, bringing gentlemen and ladies in formal calling attire.

In summer, a dignified type of tennis was played, while ladies, carrying white parasols strolled the gardens.

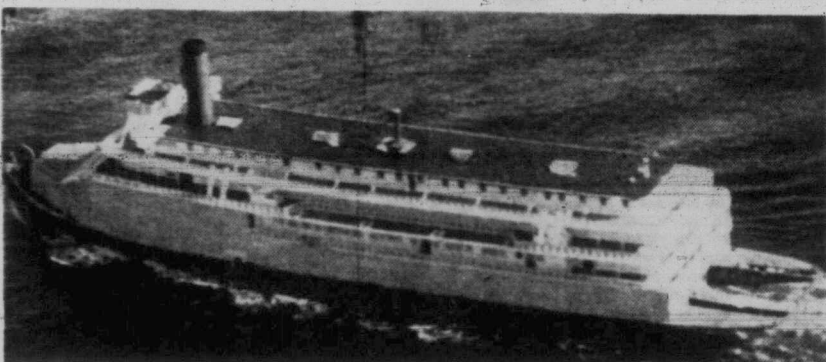

Important figures in business, finance and politics, hurried to the big house for solemn conferences in the library.

Now the last link with its historic past is gone; and Holybank alone stands as a reminder of the pioneer family which contributed so much to the growth of Victoria.

Mrs. Rithet's husband owned R. P. Rithet & Co., Victoria, importers and commission merchants who built the outer wharves at Ogden Point; Welch & Co. of San Francisco; and California & Hawaii Sugar Refining Company.

In the years prior to his death, he spent much of his time in California, but always maintained Holybank ready for instant occupancy.

He was born in Applegarth, Scotland, and came to "seek his fortune" in Victoria in 1862, five years after his bride-to-be came here with her mother.

Old Stern-Wheeler Towed Here From San Francisco

The 300-foot stern-wheeler Delta King was towed into Victoria's Outer Harbor this morning by the Island Tug and Barge Limited's Island Navigator. The old riverboat, being towed from San Francisco to Victoria for a rebuilding job, was delayed by heavy winds which whipped through the straits during the past two days. The Delta King will be rebuilt to accommodate about 400 men working at the Aluminum Company of Canada's project at Kitimat.

Jackson Life Sentence Reduced To 15 Years by Appeal Court

Gordon Jackson, 26-year-old Coal Harbor fisherman will have only 15 years to serve in prison instead of the life term to which he was sentenced last month.

Jackson, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the shooting of his brother, Percy, last September, had his sentence reduced by B.C. Court of Appeal in judgment handed down today by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan.

The 15-year term will date from March 27, date of his original sentence by Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne in Nanaimo Assize Court.

Jackson's appeal was presented to the court on Friday. In bringing down judgment, Chief Justice Sloan observed the case had been given particularly long and anxious thought by those hearing the appeal.

The court was half-an-hour late in starting this morning, giving rise to speculation that the five appeal judges differed in opinion as to commuting the sentence.

Jackson, whom doctors describe as a man of below normal intelligence, will undergo psychiatric treatment during his time in prison.

Originally tried for murder, he was found guilty of the less serious charge of manslaughter because jury members could find no motive for the killing. It was shown in evidence Jackson was in a state of drunkenness at the time, having been a participant in a wild, home-brew drinking party lasting several days.

League Wants Phrase Change In Plebiscite

The Citizens' League of Victoria is in favor of alternating the wording of the liquor plebiscite to be placed before the voters in the June 12 provincial elections, Frank Partridge, president, said today.

The league is unanimously in favor of wording the liquor plebiscite: "Are you in favor of beer and wines being sold with meals?" he said.

The plebiscite as announced by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer will be: "Are you in favor of the sale of spirituous liquor and wine by the glass in establishments licensed for such purpose?"

Mr. Partridge said the League is also unanimously in favor of sweepstakes, with the proceeds going wholly towards hospital insurance.

Fourteen passengers were injured in a car wrecked when it went off the road near Duncan early Sunday morning.

They were taken to King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan. They are: Morley King, 17, of Duncan, driver of the car, head cuts. Ingrid Christianson, 15, Duncan, shoulder injuries, face cuts. Carol Hindmarsh, 17, Lady-smith, face cuts.

Jimmy Swanson, 16, Duncan, minor cuts and bruises. Three other passengers in the car were uninjured.

H.C.M.P. at Duncan said the car went off the road, struck a telephone pole and ended up on the embankment of the Cobble Hill road.

Two pedestrians received minor injuries here Sunday when they were in collision with cars.

Treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for leg and ankle bruises was Albert E. Miles, 72, Beverley Hotel. He collided with a car driven by Albert H. Nicholson, Cedar, B.C., at Yates and Douglas.

Danny Chan, five, of 722 Caledonia, received a bruised leg when he ran into a car driven by David M. Hesselgraff, 580 Johnson, on Douglas Street.

Reserve Battalion Will Make Donation of Blood

Reserve battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) this week will do its bit to swell the Canadian Red Cross blood bank.

Scottish are the first to respond to the appeal. It has been some years since the regiment had made a mass donation.

Blood for the armed forces is supplied by the Red Cross.

Action follows a call from Defense Minister Brooke Claxton urging reservists to help build up the blood banks in their communities.

Today delegates were formally welcomed to Victoria by Mayor Claude Harrison.

George L. Drake, vice-president of the Shepparton Logging Company, Shelton, Wash., was the first speaker at the opening session of the conference this morning. He spoke on forest conservation. Mr. Drake is president of the Society of American Foresters.

He was followed by Hillman Luedemann, president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, who reviewed logging operations and other aspects of the lumber industry.

F. L. Magee, vice-president in charge of production, Aluminum Company of America, gave a talk on his industry.

Mr. Magee described the growth of aluminum production and fabricating in North America.

Rivals Seeking Forest Rights Before Cabinet

The provincial cabinet will preside over a hearing on Celgar Development Company's application for a 1,000,000-acre forest management license application in the Arrow Lakes region.

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney, at a brief public hearing this morning, ruled that the hearing would go before the whole cabinet. Usual procedure is to have a hearing before the minister, and then an appeal to the Cabinet.

Mr. Kenney said the hearing will be arranged as soon as possible.

Kootenay Forest Products Ltd., formerly Glacier Lumber Company, which wants part of the area Celgar is seeking, first suggested the Cabinet hearing through its counsel, Senator J. W. de B. Farris.

Celgar officials objected. They wanted to follow the usual system of a public hearing before the minister and then an appeal to the Cabinet.

The minister explained the original intention was to start off with a Cabinet hearing, but through an error on his part the hearing had called before himself.

Celgar plans to invest $65,000,000 in the area in a large integrated forest industry including a sulphate mill, newsprint mill and sawmills. Part of the area is also sought by the Kootenay firm.

R.C.A.F. SEEKS MORE MEN YET FROM ISLAND

While the R.C.A.F. recruiting score on Vancouver Island is second-to-none in Canada the air force plans to increase its count in the area.

Ft. Lt. Hugh Campbell, in charge of island recruiting, reports the R.C.A.F. will open a second recruiting station on the island in about six weeks. It will be located at Nanaimo.

Three men will be posted to the new unit, staffed by officers and men of the Victoria office on a rotation basis.

Defending Aircraft Win Mock War in City Skies

Theoretically, defensive fighter aircraft which roared overhead over the Greater Victoria area during the weekend beat off enemy aircraft endeavoring to penetrate to targets.

It was the first such large-scale "mock raid" held at Patricia Bay in the post-war years.

The 12 planes, pilots and ground crew were provided by the 443 City of New Westminster Squadron—the Hornets. Controlling the defending aircraft were members of the local 2455 Auxiliary Radar Squadron in command of Sqdn. Ldr. P. D. P. Holmes.

"These are good operations for us. We hope they will be repeated many times. The visiting squadron personnel seemed to have enjoyed the exercise. All were returned by airlift Sunday night," said Sqdn. Ldr. Holmes.

The exercise started Saturday afternoon and continued throughout Sunday under perfect weather for operations. Commanding the New Westminster Squadron was Wing Cmdr. William Barker.

Defensive patrols were up all the time, "scrambling" every hour. Besides fighter craft, bombers, the pilots took on a bomber that had penetrated through to Bowen Island.

Job of the radar squadron was to give the defending aircraft courses.

As soon as the friendly craft sighted the enemy, they signalled "Tally-ho" and were then on their own to tackle the enemy.

The shooting was done by "camera guns."

Rally Enjoyed By Wolf Cubs

Two hundred small, exuberant, green-capped figures howled and cavorted all over Beacon Hill's Heywood Avenue soccer pitch on Saturday afternoon.

The event was a Lower Island rally for Wolf Cub "sixers" arranged by the Greater Victoria Boy Scout Association. In addition to local boys, there were representatives attending from Sooke, Jordan River and Deep Cove.

The rally was a howling success. Executive Scout Commissioner Freeman King was in charge of the event, witnessed by many provincial scout, guide and cub officials.

Gen. Peakes said he is convinced the P.C.'s will form the next B.C. government.

He felt the Social Credit party in this province is made up of malcontents of other parties who stood not for principle but for themselves.

No Invitation For Col. Drew

Major-Gen. G. R. Peakes, V.C., M.P. for Nanaimo, denied Saturday that national Tory leader George Drew has refused to take part in British Columbia's election campaign.

The Nanaimo member told the semi-annual meeting of the Nanaimo Federal Progressive Conservative Association at Duncan that Col. Drew was not asked, and he won't be.

Gen. Peakes said he is convinced the P.C.'s will form the next B.C. government.

He felt the Social Credit party in this province is made up of malcontents of other parties who stood not for principle but for themselves.

More than 200 delegates are on hand for the annual conference of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association being held in Victoria today and Tuesday.

Sunday evening, delegates attended an informal banquet in the Empress Hotel, where all business sessions of the two-day meeting will be held. The Victoria Chamber of Commerce played host.

The theme of the conference is "The Golden Age of Pacific Northwest Resources."

The conference will emphasize the revolutionary developments in the methods of industries based on the resources of the Pacific Northwest.

A series of addresses by senior executives in all phases of industry in the northwest are scheduled. These will be followed by round-table talks where delegates can examine problems.

Today delegates were formally welcomed to Victoria by Mayor Claude Harrison.

George L. Drake, vice-president of the Shepparton Logging Company, Shelton, Wash., was the first speaker at the opening session of the conference this morning. He spoke on forest conservation. Mr. Drake is president of the Society of American Foresters.

He was followed by Hillman Luedemann, president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, who reviewed logging operations and other aspects of the lumber industry.

F. L. Magee, vice-president in charge of production, Aluminum Company of America, gave a talk on his industry.

Mr. Magee described the growth of aluminum production and fabricating in North America.

Passing of Last Rithet Leaves Historic Home Forlorn

When Robert Paterson Rithet escorted his bride, the eldest daughter of Alexander Munro, to Holybank, he took her to the home which would be hers the rest of her life.

There she experienced the happiness and tears, the gaiety and sorrow, of a long and full life.

Holybank in the past was a house of life and excitement. Lived coachmen wheeled shiny carriages up the driveway, bringing gentlemen and ladies in formal calling attire.

In summer, a dignified type of tennis was played, while ladies, carrying white parasols strolled the gardens.

Important figures in business, finance and politics, hurried to the big house for solemn conferences in the library.

Now the last link with its historic past is gone; and Holybank alone stands as a reminder of the pioneer family which contributed so much to the growth of Victoria.

Mrs. Rithet's husband owned R. P. Rithet & Co., Victoria, importers and commission merchants who built the outer wharves at Ogden Point; Welch & Co. of San Francisco; and California & Hawaii Sugar Refining Company.

In the years prior to his death, he spent much of his time in California, but always maintained Holybank ready for instant occupancy.

He was born in Applegarth, Scotland, and came to "seek his fortune" in Victoria in 1862, five years after his bride-to-be came here with her mother.

Cut of Milk Deliveries Seen as Surest Saving

Every-other-day deliveries in winter, and quantity discounts, would be more effective in lowering milk prices than letting stores sell a quart one cent cheaper, Henry G. Robinson, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, said today.

He spoke regarding the one-cent reduction permitted a Vancouver grocery chain by the B.C. Milk Board. The same reduction may be authorized here.

"A one-cent saving is not worth walking to the store for," Mr. Robinson said. "And if you send a youngster and he drops a bottle on the way home, there go the savings for a month."

An alternative would be elimination of deliveries altogether, "but that would cause too much hardship to too many people," he said.

The question may be discussed at a dairymen's meeting in Nanaimo tonight, he said.

This Thermos Won't Break If Dropped on the Floor!

By PENNY SAVER

He scared the daylight out of me, really he did! I had dropped in to see one of my favorite shopkeepers and the minute I stepped in the door he called to me and said he had something new in that he thought would interest me.

That's always good news to me, so I hurried over to where he was standing—with a thermos in his hand.

Suddenly he threw that thermos on the floor.

Of course, he gave me quite a start! It isn't every day you see someone deliberately throw a thermos on the floor. As a matter of fact, I don't think I've ever seen it done before. Thermos just can't take it.

At least that is what I thought.

Evidently there is one on the market now that can take it. This thermos has a vacuum bottle just the same as other types, but it is specially treated so it will withstand a sudden collision with floor or ground. The cup that screws on the top is plastic so it can stand the drop, too.

Price tag was marked $2.05.

Flour Sifter Marked With Measurements

At first when I looked at this flour sifter I thought it would be of interest because it was made of plastic and priced at $1.25.

With this in mind, I picked it up to make sure it would stand up to considerable use and as I turned it around I discovered that it was marked the same as a measuring cup, only up to five cups. Isn't that something? I thought it was wonderful. The sifter is the kind that works by pressing the handle.

Hope you'll find it a worthwhile addition to your kitchen.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Flexibility Is Important In Beauty and Health

One of the nicest benefits of physical exercise is the relaxation it brings us. Another is the development of flexibility. Most of us lead sedentary lives. We often sit and walk with poor posture and our joints become stiff and our muscles lose their elasticity.

By mid-life most persons have at least begun to settle down to stiffening up. This very feeling of physical aging predisposes us to psychological aging. If we feel physically bound and awkward we assume old age mannerisms and the entire process of aging, physical and mental, increases rapidly.

In order to delay aging one must make an effort to fight the effects of gravity and inactivity. Improvement in beauty is almost impossible without improvement in flexibility. If you are rigid you will never have good balance or carriage or graceful movement. Often it is essential to stretch your muscles and ligaments before you can straighten out the lines of your silhouette.

For the above reasons flexibility is extremely important both in beauty and in health. Here is an exercise for flexibility: Stand facing a bar or a piece of furniture which is about three feet, four inches high. Separate your legs as far as comfortable and hold them firmly in position. Take hold of the bar or furniture. The trunk should be in the horizontal position and the arms extended but the elbows should not be stiff. Now let your head fall forward and lower your bust. You will feel a restful stretch through the spine. Hold a few moments and relax. Repeat several times.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 24, "Exercises for Relaxing," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Married in St Mark's

Canon R. Willis officiated at the ceremony in St. Mark's Church, Saturday evening, which united Rose Anne Evans, daughter of Mrs. W. Evans, Saanichton, and James Robert Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Jackson, Regina Avenue.

Spring flowers decorated the church and Mrs. J. A. Bullock sang "O Perfect Love," during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Warren McConnell, was lovely in a white satin gown fashioned with sweetheart neck outlined with rhinestones and seed pearls, and had skirt with long train. A coronet of ruffled net held her three-quarter length veil of silk net. The groom's gift of rhinestones sparkled at her neck and she carried a cascade of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Larry Thompson, matron of honor, was dressed in blue nylon net over taffeta, with bandeau of blue flowers, and matching mitts. Miss Patricia Evans, bridesmaid for her sister, wore yellow taffeta with matching floral headpiece and mitts. Both carried sprays of spring flowers. Miss Vicki Jackson, small sister of the groom, was flower girl in a Kate Greenaway frock of pink taffeta with peek-a-boo bows at the hemline. She wore a band of yellow flowers in her hair and yellow mitts and carried a colonial bouquet. The bridegroom had his uncle, Mr. Larry Thompson, as best man, and ushers were his brother, Mr. Harvey Jackson, and Mr. William Keck.

The reception was held at Lougheed's Banquet Club where the toast was given by Mr. Herbert Brown. The three-tiered cake centred the table which was decorated with sweet peas and spring flowers, and lighted tapers.

Driving up the Island on honeymoon the bride wore a powder blue gabardine suit with pink and navy accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

LET NEW METHOD GUARD YOUR FURS against NIGHT DAMPNESS

PROTECT your furs during the long summer months from their deadliest enemy—humidity. Night mists creep up from the ground and seep through the thickest walls. Serious damage to your costly furs can result. Soaking up the moisture from humid air, your furs become soft, flabby and stretch out of shape. Yes, and dampness is a fertile field for rapid growth of cancer-like mildew.

Night dampness can never seep into New Method's strong, cool vaults. Our famous Haertel System vaults are kept at the right temperatures and the right humidity level to preserve the lustrous beauty of your furs all summer long. A bonded New Method driver will pick up your furs now. Low rates based on your own valuation—low minimum. You pay nothing until next fall.

NEW METHOD CARE FOR EXTRA WEAR...

AUTOMATIC HUMIDITY CONTROL. The amazing Humidistat in New Method's Haertel Vaults maintains humidity between 50 and 55 per cent... keeps out the moisture menace.

AUTOMATIC STERILIZATION AND VENTILATION. Only the purest filtered air reaches your fur coat. Total absence of moth life is guaranteed. Your coat hangs free, uncrowded.

VAULTS ARE SAFE AS A BANK. The only fur storage vaults in Victoria with full B.C. District Telegraph Protection Services... Burglar Alarm System is linked direct to City Police Station. Vault walls are concrete, eight inches thick.

FULL INSURANCE. Your coat is fully insured from the time it is picked up until it is returned to you. Vaults are completely fireproof.

Motoring In the States On Honeymoon

Following their marriage in Christ Church Cathedral Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith Boyd are motoring through the States for their honeymoon.

Rev. J. Van Der Leest, heard the nuptial vows of the former Edna May Limer, daughter of Mrs. J. I. Limer, Bushby Street, and late Mr. Limer, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyle, Nelson Street.

Lilies and spring flowers decorated the church and guest pews were marked with nosegays of spring blossoms. Graham Steed played organ music as the bride walked up the aisle on the arm of her eldest brother, Norman Illsley Limer, Vancouver.

She chose a gown of white satin trimmed with lace. The fitted bodice featured a nylon yoke and the long sleeves were lily-point. A sweetheart head-dress touched with orange blossoms held a finger-tip length embroidered veil. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Mary Graham, wore a gown of pale blue nylon net over taffeta, and bridesmaids Miss Kathleen Paxton and Miss Eleanor Clunk, were gowned in pale pink and pale green nylon net over taffeta with large picture hats to match. Little flower girl, Miss Beverly Limer, wore a frock of pale yellow nylon net over taffeta. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets of spring flowers.

Jack Graham was best man and ushers were Ronald Limer and Dennis Groves.

The bride's table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a three-tier cake at the reception in the C.C.F. Hall. Antique silver candlesticks held white candles. W. Clunk proposed the toast to the bride.

For her going-away ensemble the bride chose a tropical grey worsted suit topped with an off-white shortie coat. She wore mauve accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mettel left Victoria on the weekend for their home in Saskatoon, after spending the winter months in this city visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. M. Watts. During their visit they were guests at the Douglas Hotel.

St. Paul's Church Woman's Auxiliary, Tuesday at 2.30, in guild room.

Ladies' Guild, St. Peter's Mission, blossom tea, Wednesday from 2.30 to 5 at St. Peter's Mission, Reynolds Road. Also home cooking and plant stall.

Coryl Ford and Joseph Kavanaugh Wed in St. John's Anglican Church

A bluish satin gown styled in classic lines with Elizabethan collar was worn by Coryl Ford, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Ford, when she exchanged nuptial vows with Joseph Kavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kalachoff, Penticton, at a ceremony in St. John's Anglican Church. Canon George Biddle officiated.

Spring flowers decorated the church and F. Chubb played organ music as the bride walked up the aisle on the arm of her brother, Barrie Ford. Roberto Wood sang "O, Perfect Love," during the signing of the register, accompanied by Mrs. Wood. The collar line of the bridal gown and a peplum at the hips were edged with accented pleating. A bluish pink veil cascaded from a coronet studded with silver and pearl beads. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of deep red roses and lily of the valley. She complemented her gown with her mother's pearls.

Maid of honor, Miss Barbara Guy, wore pink nylon marquisette over satin. They both carried crescent-shaped bouquets of pink carnations and blue iris. Miss Norma MacFarlane, bridesmaid, chose a gown of blue nylon net.

Ed Barry was best man and ushers were Cyprien Mireau and Dennis Jenkinson.

Frank Sutherland proposed the toast to the bride at the reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Loughheed, Harbinger Avenue. A three-tier wedding cake decorated with roses, tulle work and butterflies was topped with red roses and lily of the valley.

The honeymoon will be spent motoring to Harrison Hot Springs and in the interior of British Columbia.

Indians, Tigers Can Set Records

Cleveland's rampaging Indians, baseball's only unbeaten team, are closing in on the major league record for consecutive victories at the start of a season.

At the same time, Detroit's Tigers are on their way to a record in reverse—that of losing the most games from opening day.

Combining brilliant pitching with home-range hitting, Al Lopez, win-happy tribe Sunday swept a double-header from the toothless Tigers, 3-2 and 7-2, for their sixth and seven triumphs in succession.

Cleveland needs two more wins to equal the record of nine that the 1944 St. Louis Browns, 1918
New York Giants and 1940 Brooklyn Dodgers reeled off right from the start.

TIGERS IMPOTENT
Detroit, without a victory in its first seven games, is more than halfway to its own major league record of 13 successive losses at the start of the 1920 campaign.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had their unbeaten skein snapped at five when Sal (The Barber)
Maglie pitched the New York
Giants to a 6-0 victory. Maglie limited the hard-hitting Brooklyn to two singles as he became the first pitcher to shut out the Dodgers at Ebbets Field since Johnny Schmitz, then with Chicago, did the trick Aug. 25, 1919.

Cincinnati advanced to within one game of the National League leading Dodgers, winning a pair in Pittsburgh, 8-6, and 12-2.
Ted Klusowski, slugging Cincinnati first baseman, had a field day at bat. He smashed a home run in each game and drove in nine runs. Besides hitting a "grand-slammer" in the nightcap, Klusowski also banged two triples to account for seven Redleg tallies.

GARVER SPARKLES
Ned Garver hurled his second shutout in two starts for the St.
Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox.
Garver held the Sox to two safeties as the Browns won the first game, 8-0. Chicago bats awoke in the second game to pound out a 10-2 win.

A home run by pinch hitter
Billy Goodman, with two on in the seventh gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-3 victory over Washington.

Manager Casey Stengel shook up his line-up and the New York Yankees responded by beating the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6.

thus relieving the nervousness. Demand
CHINAROID. Insist nothing else will do.

"You were, too, out—ask my wife there!"

3-0 Sunday for a sweep of their three-game Western International League exhibition baseball series.
Yakima won the opener Saturday 8-5.

Yakima Wins Three
YAKIMA, Wash., April 21
(AP)—Yakima took a doubleheader from Vancouver 5-3 and

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 21
(BUP)—Freddie Baker of North
Vancouver, was named the outstanding Canadian athlete of the year at the Pacific Northwest Indian Boxing Tournament
here Saturday night.

Baker received a national award as well as provincial honors for his prowess in boxing, lacrosse and baseball.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ROLLING TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

CREATING
New Jobs
New Communities
New Opportunities

WILL WE KEEP IT COMING?

In one of the greatest development programmes under way anywhere in North America, we in British Columbia can look forward to the spending of about 1 1/2 billions of dollars in the next three years...
PROVIDED investors still feel that our province is a safe place to risk their money.

Right within B.C.'s grasp is the cherished future we have so long awaited. But this will fade away if investors are told that their holdings may be nationalized under some socialistic scheme of government-own-everything.

New jobs, new opportunities, bigger sales, higher living standards, more population all depend on B.C. continuing to earn the kind of CONFIDENCE that developed from the election three years ago when the great majority of people clearly said they wanted a sound, free opportunity system of economy.

LET'S MAKE ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN OF OUR FUTURE. LET'S KEEP THE MONEY WE NEED COMING TO BRITISH COLUMBIA.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Crossed Eyes Should Get Proper Treatment Early

BY EDWARD F. JORDAN, M.D.

Nealy every mother with her first-born child worries for fear that the infant's eyes will be crossed because, during the first three months of life or so, a baby's eyes will float or wander so that they do not appear to be looking in the same direction. It is only when after several months the eyes fail to move together, that one has to worry about the condition which is known as crossed eyes.

It is important to treat crossed eyes as early as possible, since the earlier treatment is started the better the results, even though often much can be done later on. A child in the first few months of life who shows a tendency to close one eye, to tilt the head or to rub one of the eyes, should be examined for crossed eyes since a child does not outgrow this condition by himself.

Strictly speaking, crossed eyes is when one eye turns inward, but in some cases the eye may turn outward (wall eye) or sometimes upward. Any one of several factors may cause crossed eyes: A blow on the head, heredity, disease, near or far-sightedness, faulty muscles, and nervous incoordination.

There are several kinds of treatment for crossed eyes and some of them can be started as early as a year old. Which of the various methods to use is a matter which must be decided by the physician. It may be that glasses will be recommended and this alone can do the job. Sometimes a patch is placed over the good eye which forces the youngster to use the weaker eye, and therefore aids the muscles and the vision. Eye muscle exercises are sometimes prescribed and this may be in addition to the glasses. In some cases one or more operations is necessary and this is not con-

Body of Large Elephant Seal Will 'Weather' Near Ucluelet

The huge elephant seal killed off the west coast of Vancouver Island will be left to weather near Ucluelet this summer before the skeleton of the mammal is brought to Victoria, Charles Guiguet, provincial museum biologist, said today.

Mr. Guiguet recently returned from Ucluelet where he arranged to have the elephant seal hung in nets for the duration of the summer. The sea animal will be left to the flies to clean up. Its skeleton will then be brought to Victoria, assembled and polished for showing at the museum.

Mr. Guiguet said the teeth of the animal were worn, which indicated that it was very old. The seal was 16 feet long and weighed approximately a ton, he added.

The seal was killed by Simon Peter, an Indian.

HEROISM

THORNE, Yorkshire, Eng., April 21 (AP).—The Royal Humane Society awarded its heroism medal today to a fisherman who saved the life of a three-year-old boy by hooking onto his clothes and reeling him in.

Last October, when little Erroll Mountcastle fell into the water, John Wood snagged the boy's clothing and nonchalantly reeled him ashore.

B.C. Trapper Brought Back to Civilization

REVELSTOKE, B.C., April 21. (BUP)—A 41-year-old trapper who spent four pain-racked months in an isolated cabin in the Rocky Mountains living on bacon and beans waited today to get his teeth into a good-sized steak.

Trapper Adolph Anderson was brought here Saturday by Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constable James King and George Laforme, a hunting guide. He still was pained by a back injury he suffered last year when he fell while returning from his traplines.

He got the shave. But hospital attendants said they would save the steak until he was in better condition from his diet of beans and bacon.

King and Laforme set out to look for Anderson April 8, after other trappers reported he had intended to be in town for last Christmas. Anderson said he lost his footing returning to his cabin with a load of furs "some time before Christmas," and rolled down a hill.

"I forced myself to crawl the rest of the way to the cabin," he said. "My back was killing me. I didn't begin to feel better until just a couple of weeks ago."

He said he rationed himself on canned beans and bacon since the accident because he had no way of knowing how long he would have to wait for help.
